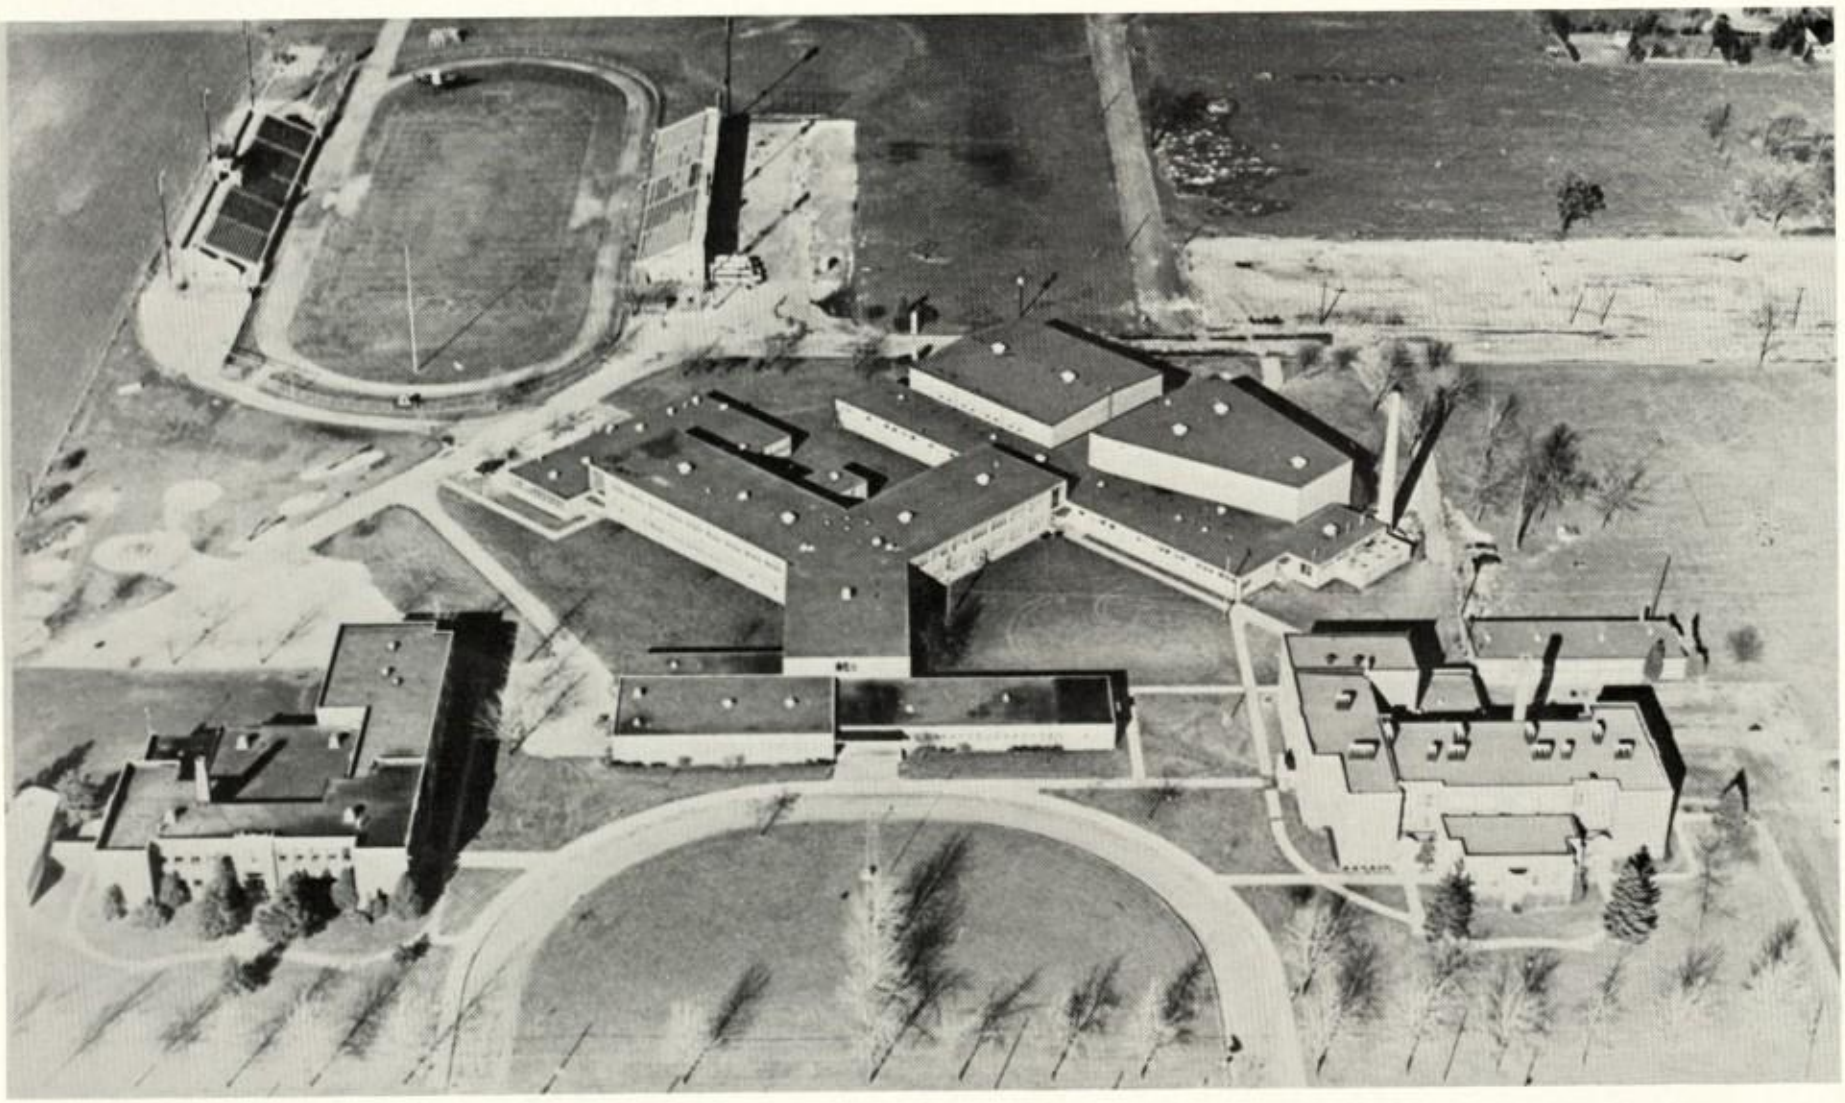
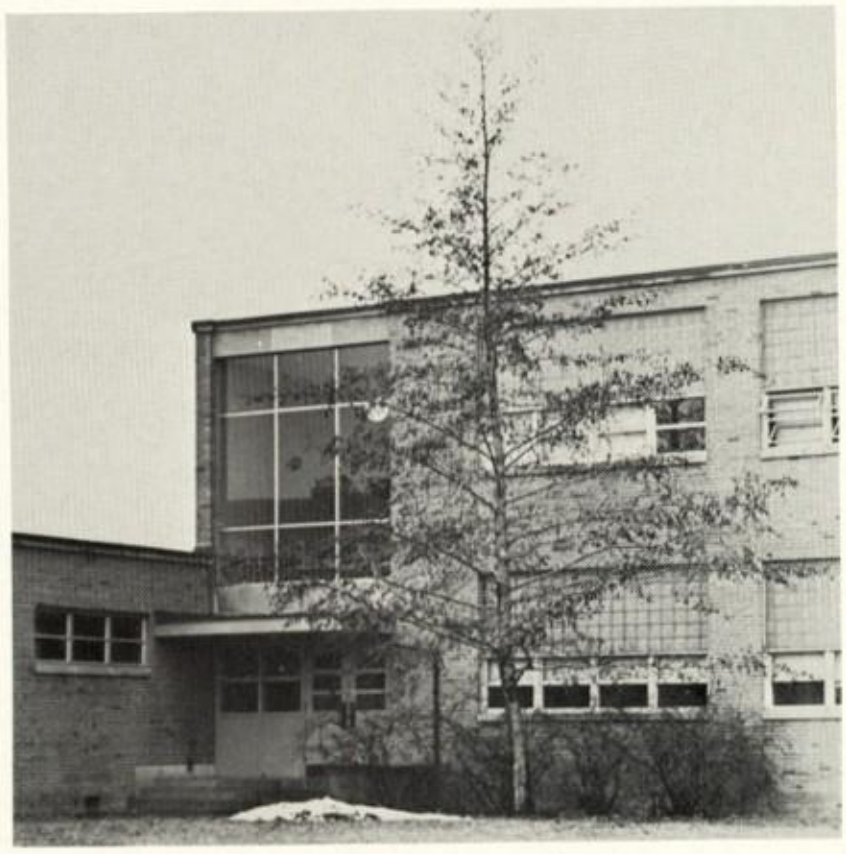
Built in 1926 Clay Senior High School was named after Jeremiah Clay on whose farm the school was built. The first graduating class—that of 1930—consisted of twenty-one students. Among the extra-curricular activities were four literary societies, an annual staff, a newspaper staff, an orchestra and glee club, and a Student Council. Both the Junior High and the Senior High were housed in the same building. In 1928, 1930, 1938, and 1940 wings were added to the school. The stadium was erected in 1947. In 1952 the present building was raised. The Junior High remained in the old building which became known as the Annex. After the building of other Junior High schools in the area, the Annex was used to supplement the main building's classrooms.

Over the years the curriculum has changed greatly. Today there are several courses offered that were rarely offered in public schools when the school was first built. Among them are Latin, Spanish, French, Chemistry, Physics, Machine Shop, Business Education, and the Vocational Courses. Today and in the years to come, Clay will have an increasing number of students graduating as it expands to meet the needs of the community.





It is only a convenient block of time, this thing we call a year. And, we label them with numbers. Our number is 1968, and 1968 promises to be the label attached to a year of strife. The struggle of Man is being fought not only on the battlefields and in the nation's capitals, but in the minds of men as well. The battle for advancement of civilization is being waged in laboratories around the world. The courts are legislating for the rights of all men. And, in the schools a small pod of educators are beginning to realize that you can not teach the future by looking into a rear view mirror. Perhaps this is good. Maybe all of this colossal conflict will endear this, our year, to future generations.

But in the midst of such colossal efforts, the common things dear to life may be forgotten. Who will remember this as the year of the mini skirt? Will historians recall our hops, our games, our school mates? Who will remember 1968 as being important because of the little things that happened to us during its reign? Possibly no one.

Yet, are not the "ordinary things" at the very core of life's most intriguing episodes? We, the Crystal staff, believe this is true; and because we believe this, we offer the 1968 Crystal as a record, as a log of the small stuff of life. May your memory's thirst be quenched herein, again, and yet again.

Homecoming Queen Reigns

As Clay Defeats Bedford 13-6

On the evening of October 6, 1967, the Clay Memorial Stadium was jam-packed with anxious Eagle fans awaiting the crowning of the Homecoming Queen, Vicki Heilman. Though it was cold and windy, Vicki and her attendants, Jacque Miles and Judy Zimmerman, made their triumphant parade around the track.

In pre-game ceremonies the 1966 Homecoming Queen, Yolanda Danyi, assisted by the cheerleaders, presented ribbons and chrysanthemums to the attendants, and placed the crown atop Vicki's head.

The class of 1947 was presented to the spectators during half-time ceremonies. The queen's crown and flowers were provided by the alumni.

Following the game, the Homecoming Court and their escorts were honored at a record hop in the school gymnasium.

Limelighters Present

Annual Assembly

On October 12, 1967 the annual Limelighters Assembly was presented. The first feature, "If Girls Asked Boys," showed what it would be like if the dating situation of today were reversed and if it were the boy who had to wait for the girl to call. Jim Baker, Frank Brown, Pam Tholl, and Janet Pastor had the leads.

Between plays the musical department did an excerpt from South Pacific. The second play, starring Rich Harting, Judy Zimmerman and Bruce Wallace was entitled "The Telltale Heart." The title is derived from the fact that the assassin can still hear the heartbeat of the victim he stabbed to death.

Rich Harting carries the lantern in his search for hidden gold.

Cheerleaders Fire-Up For A Victory

Familiar to the spectators at Clay's football and basketball games are the varsity and reserve cheerleaders. Their efforts are aimed at directing the enthusiasm and school spirit of the crowds to help urge our teams on to victory.

At Camp All-American, the summer cheerleading camp, the varsity squad distinguished themselves by capturing seventh place in group competition. Peggy Hart brought further honors to Clay when she was awarded the second place trophy in individual competition.

The cheerleaders decorated the stadium for homecoming and dad's night and diligently made and hung posters each week.

With all the hours of hard work, these girls did a tremendous job this year.

Reserve cheerleaders add a little spirit to the game.

Peggy Hart shouts, "Have you got the Spirit?"

Super Talent

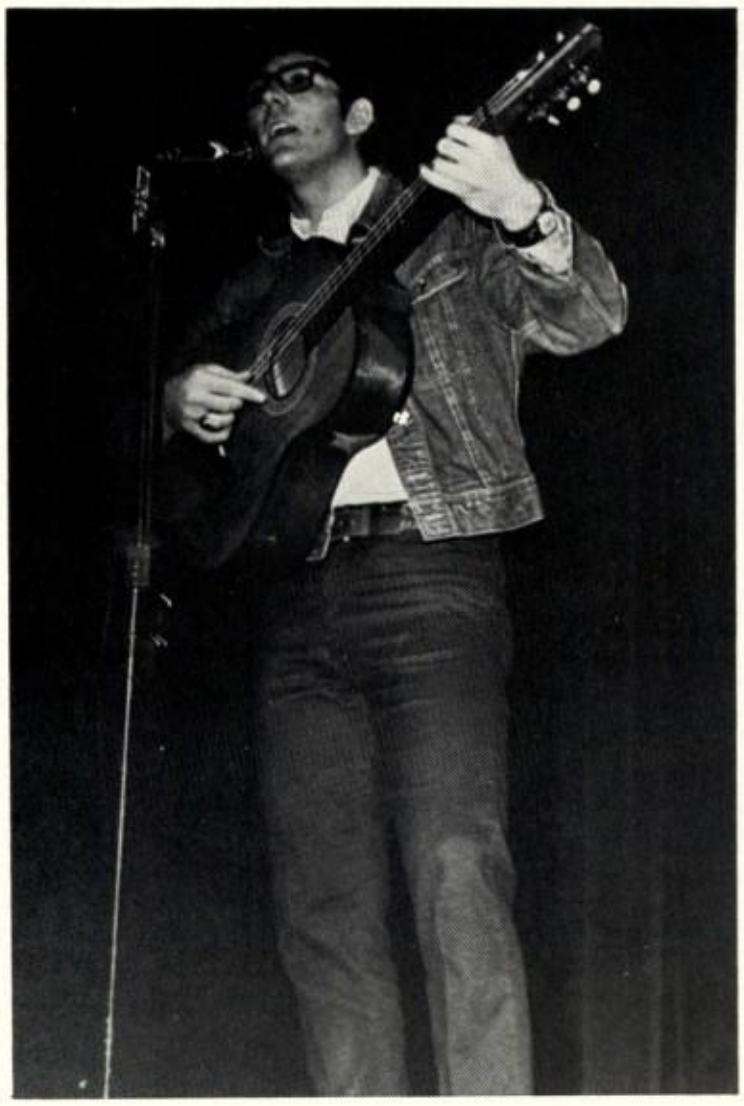
Burst Forth

At Specialties

This year's Clay High School Specialties was held on Tuesday February 6, 1968. The hidden talent of the Eagles came out into the open on the auditorium stage in front of the student body and teachers.

Returning this year for another outstanding performance was Frank "Mac" McLaughlin and Jeanne Papp. Adding confusion and laughter were Ken Smarkel and John Danekin posing as stage hands and fine kazoo players. The Young Generation sang a song of their own composition.

The evening performance of the Specialties was held on March 8, 1968 in auditorium. This year seemed to be a very good year for the talent showing of Clay High students.



Terry Bourdo sings a melancholy folk song for his Specialties Debut.

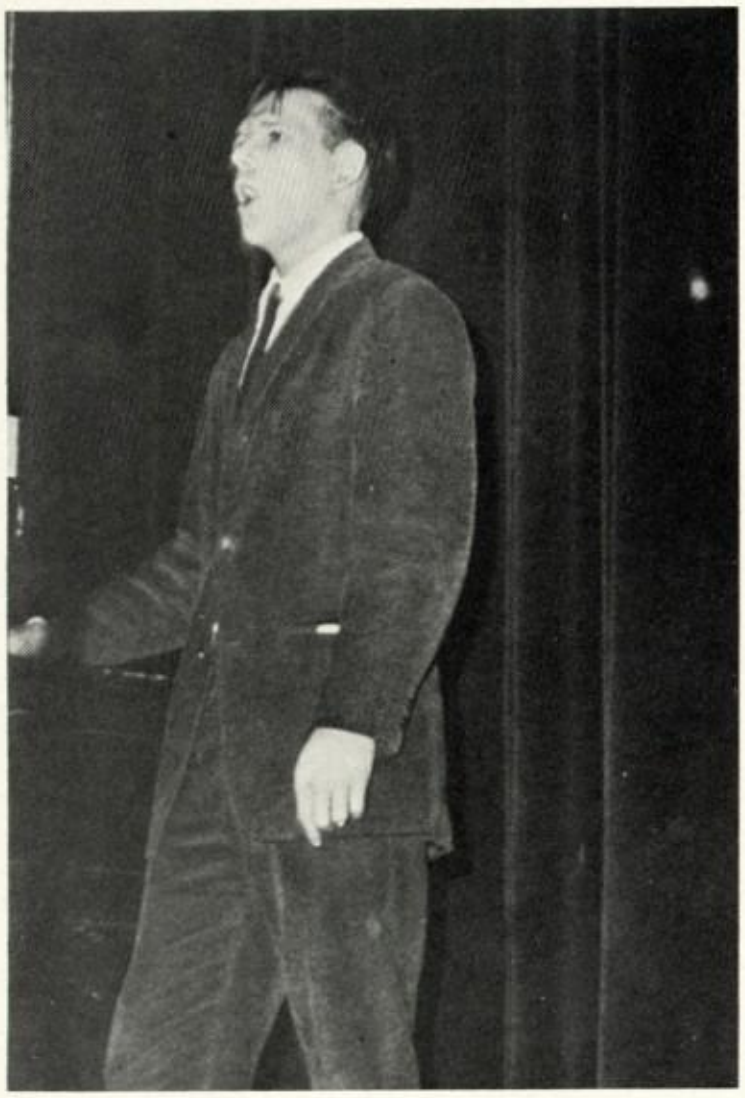
The Young Generation, Jean Lajti, Diane Wilbarger, Sandy Mikesell and Connie Mikolas sing the song that they composed themselves.



Rich Harting sings about the wind, Miria.

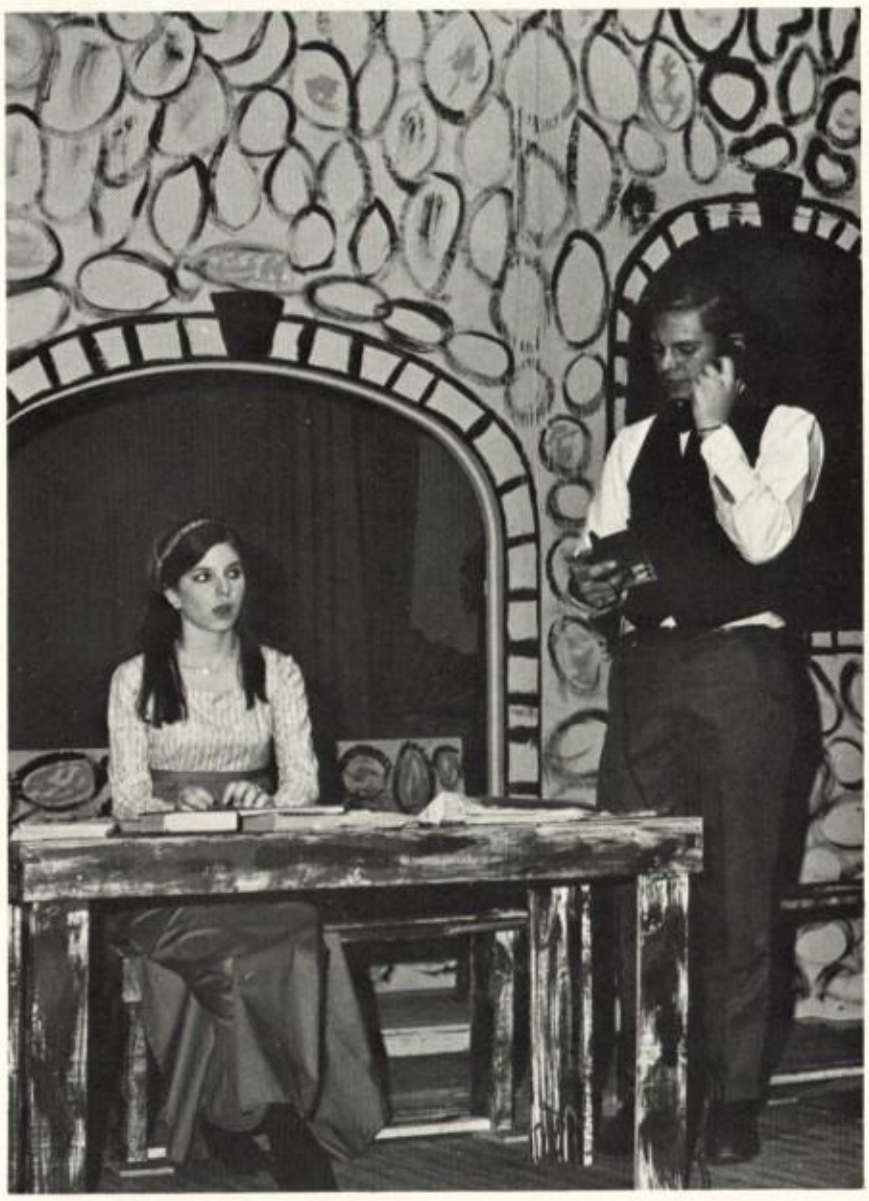
Limelighters Revive The Days Of King Arthur

"A Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court," Mark Twain's classic tale of a twentieth century New Englander who is thrown back into the middle ages, was presented by Clay's actors and actresses on November 17 and 18. Turning in fine performances in the lead roles were Dan Hagedorn, Bill Dimitroff, Frank Brown, and Pam Baldwin. To be commended is everyone involved in the presentation, including the directors, Mr. Paul Gretzinger and Mr. Vincent Rupp, the excellent supporting cast, and the hard-working backstage crew.

"Jumber wacky, mumber sackey!" exclaimed Bill Dimitroff, alias Merlin the Magician.

Guard Bruce Wallace reminds prisoner Dan Hagedorn to keep his hands at his sides as Pam Tholl tries to appear uninterested.

The end of the world has come, or so it's thought by Pam Baldwin and Bruce Wallace.



Dan Hagedorn cancels a ham sandwich and tells Gail Odneal to summon the knights.

"The eclipse will be precisely at 12:00 noon, June 18," predicts Dan Hagedorn.

Crowning Hi-Lites Snow Ball

Saturday, December 30, 1967, was the evening of the Clay High School Snowball. The semi-formal affair was sponsored by the Varsity "C." The highlight of the dance was the crowning of the Snowball King and Queen. Holding this year's title was Jim Haynes, and his date, Linda Wiczynski. After the announcement by Coach Federici and the crowning of the Queen by Mrs. Federici, the reigning couple began a dance, played by Clay High's own Mr. Chuck Neal and his band, The Nite Hawks.

The evening was concluded with dinner at the couples' favorite restaurant. This was an evening enjoyed and one to be remembered.

Clay has Exchange Student

In the Spring of 1967 the Student Council entered into an agreement with International Fellowship, Inc. to participate in a foreign student exchange. The student, Guillermo (Bill) Fonnegra was from Bogota, Columbia.

In Columbia, Guillermo was in the fourth year of high school. Among the subjects he studied were Algebra, Physics, Chemistry, Human and Physical Anatomy, Drafting, Columbian History, and two years of English.

While in Oregon, he stayed with the James Ludwig family. At Clay where Bill was registered as a junior, he enrolled in drafting, Spanish, Industrial Arts and English courses.

In his three months at Clay, Bill came in contact with many new things. Among these was hair spray. At the end of three months he returned to Columbia to begin another school year.

Among the things he had to learn, was how to use a Polaroid camera.

Guillermo asks for help in a difficult typing assignment from Cheryl Harrington.

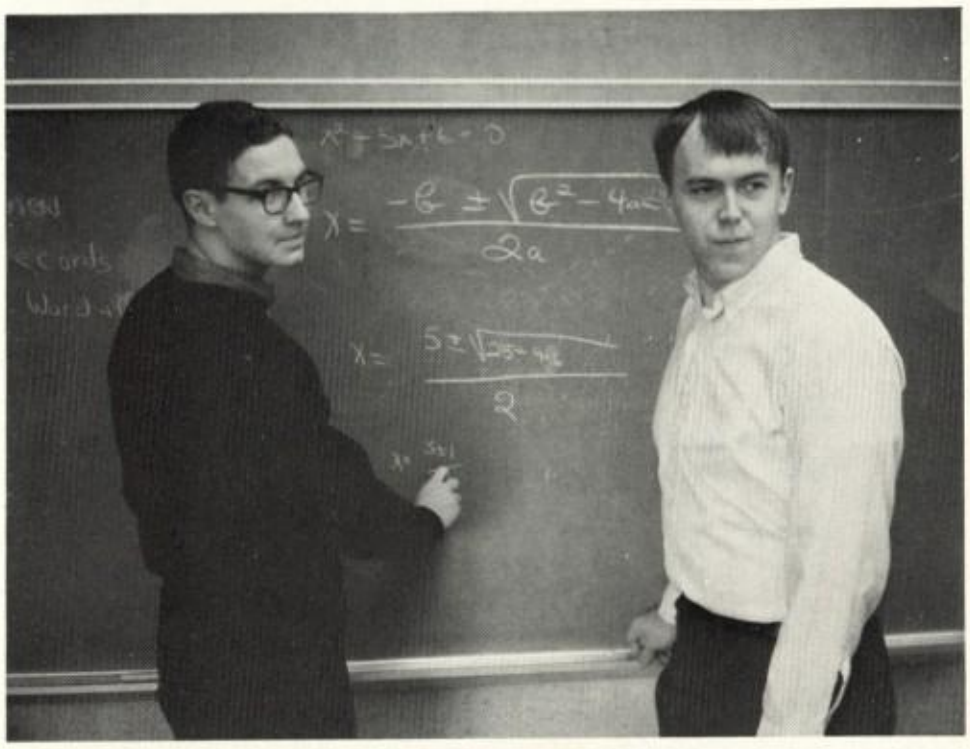
Brains Battle It Out

Eight students vied for positions on the four-member high school quiz bowl team. They were Jeff Poppe, Don Kopka, Shirley Mathews, Louis Nagy, Allen Murphy, Jim Saelzler, Bruce Wallace and Rodney Bauer. At a school assembly, the eight answered questions similar to those on the quiz bowl. Points were given for each correct answer. The four highest scorers became the quiz bowl team. They were Shirley Mathews, Allen Murphy, Rodney Bauer, and Bruce Wallace. The alternate was Louis Nagy. The team met in practice sessions before each television match. They defeated Central Catholic by a score of 270-230, and Waite by a score of 380-160. In the semi-finals they lost in a close contest, 200-180, to Libbey.



During one of their practice sessions, Rod Bauer and Bruce Wallace check a math problem on the board.

Second Place

Exhilaration exists in the physical world. Not all lessons are learned in the classroom, nor are all answers found in books or in test tubes. For participants and spectators alike varsity sports hold a special magic.

Varsity football has long been an important sport at Clay High School. This year the team maintained an overall record of four wins, four losses, and two ties. They placed second in the Great Lakes League standings. The season opened as the Eagles repaid Lima Shawnee for the defeat they were handed last year. The stiffest competition was undefeated Whitmer, a team the Eagles battled to a 6-6 tie. Spirit was high as the annual Clay vs. Cardinal Stritch game approached. The Eagles maintained their drive and spirit even though the Cardinals won. November 3, the night of the Clay vs. Waite game, was Coach Federici Day. The squad, in trying to honor their coach with a victory, battled Waite to a scoreless finish.

The team was honored when nine players were elected to the mythical All-G.L.L. "dream team." Three other players received Honorable Mention.

J. V. Undefeated, Unscored Upon

Mr. Gary Neiderhauser and Mr. Michael Casey coached the Junior Varsity football squad through a perfect season. The team did not allow their opponents to score. The season opened with a game against Cardinal Stritch. The Eagles came home with a 8-0 victory. The J.V. went on to defeat Whitmer with the same score. Then they ran past Sylvania in a 30-0 win. In this game, the high point of the season, Pete Luther maintained his scoring streak with two touchdowns; and George Bires and Frank Duran each scored a touchdown. The Junior Varsity closed its victorious season with a 20-0 win over Fostoria.

Bad Luck Plagues Eagles in Attempt To Gain League Honors

The 1967 Eagle basketball squad opened its season with a loss to Eastwood. That was followed by losses to Fostoria, Rogers, Sylvania, and Waite. The team suffered greatly from lack of returning players and the lack of experience. Under the direction of a new coach, Mr. Charles Felhaber, the team displayed plenty of spirit and drive throughout the season. The team was backed by the fine attendance and enthusiasm of the student body at the games.

J. V. Has Ups And Downs

This was the year that anything could happen. The Junior Varsity began the season with an entirely new squad. Coach Kandik worked hard on the J. V.'s. They ran laps and weave patterns along with their regular drills. Their hard work payed off when they defeated Bowling Green. They fell hard to Sylvania. Although the team had their ups and downs, they had a fairly successful season.

Clay Bowlers Experience New Set Up

This year Clay bowlers experienced a new set up for their 1967-68 season. Last year competition was comprised of different schools which competed with Clay for first place in G.L.L. This year the Clay teams competed against each other.

The Clay bowling squad is composed of eight teams. New members found that the competition was tough when they were bowling against Juniors and Seniors.

Wrestling is not a new sport at Clay. Over the years many fine wrestlers have emerged from the ranks of the Clay High School squad. To become a wrestler a boy must be composed of forty per cent desire, forty per cent attitude, and twenty per cent ability. There is no other sport that takes more physical and mental conditioning. Wrestling is a physical conditioner and gives a boy courage.

It is very essential to the wrestler to know that his school is behind him. During the year, few students bothered to attend the matches. In spite of this, the squad did a fine job.

Big Guys Have Big Hearts

The pride in earning a varsity letter and being voted into the Varsity "C" club represents more than just honor. It stands for the clean sportsmanship, clean living, and the better understanding between the athletes themselves, the faculty, and administration. These boys were allowed to remain active members only after they had maintained athletic eligibility, remained in good standing with the administration and community, and brought no discrimination to Clay by their actions.

This year the Varsity "C" filled ninety-two baskets of donated food and clothing for the needy families of the Oregon area. These were passed out on December 21, 1967, in conjunction with the city welfare department. On December 30, 1967, the club sponsored the traditional semi-formal Snowball dance with music furnished by the school's own Mr. Chuck Neal.

Other events of the year were the basketball throw booth at Fun Nite and a farewell picnic held in the spring of the year for the graduating senior members. To conclude the year the club presented the outstanding athlete of the year with a trophy.

Clay Student Council Earns TASC Honors

Members of Student Council had a busy year, both with the affairs of the school and with the business of Toledo Area Student Council. Not only did the Council create a festive atmosphere throughout the school with Christmas decorations, but they continued to sell ice cream during each lunch hour, sponsored the Backward Sock Hop, and promoted Fun Nite, pushing hard to make the annual charity drive a success.

Working in an area which is foreign to the knowledge of most students, the Student Council actively participated in the Toledo Area Student Council. Vicki Heilman presided as president of T. A. S. C., and Paulette Warnke, Clay candidate for T. A. S. C. queen, was chosen over twenty six other candidates to reign as queen.

For all important football and basketball games the Council sponsored a car caravan, and often it offered prizes for the best decorated car. A safety check in the fall and spring was held to assure that all cars driven to school met basic safety requirements. Other activities included assisting at assemblies by collecting tickets and introducing speakers and of collecting books for Book Mart 1967.

Student Council officers plan for the next meeting. They are Sandy Egidi, vice-president; Rich Rothbard, president; Judy Zimmerman, secretary; and Marty Van Scoy, treasurer.

Crystal Staff Pushes To Meet Deadlines

In April 1967 the editors for the 1968 Crystal were announced. The new staff began their journalistic efforts by planning the supplement. In order to gain a better insight into the planning and production of a yearbook, the editors attended the Journalism Workshop at Ohio University. While there, they planned the 1968 Crystal with the aid of experienced instructors.

Late in September the school signed a contract with the Gray Printing Company. Having a new printer, the staff had to adjust to new methods of preparing layouts for printing. Words such as paste-ups and cropping became a part of their vocabulary. It was easy to say the words, but the trouble began when they had to learn what the words stood for.

The staff made the adjustment easily. Each day they learned more about yearbook planning and editing.

Eagle Staff Works Hard To Produce School Paper

Each day throughout the year, the Eagle Staff met in the journalism room to work on the production of the school paper. Under the direction of their new advisor, Mr. Pratt, the Eagle Staff worked hard to get the proper news articles, advertisements, pictures and special feature items.

Once again money saving subscriptions, as well as single issues, were eagerly purchased by the students. In the fall, the senior members of the football team and the senior cheerleaders were honored in the paper with an interview and a picture.

This year the staff sponsored a dance in the school gymnasium and had a booth at Fun Night. At the end off the school year, the Eagle Staff brought honor to Clay by producing an edition of the Oregon News.

Preparation Paves Way

For Choral Success

The Clay High School A Cappella Choir consisted of 48 seniors and 47 juniors who had previously taken Glee Club for at least one year. During the Christmas holiday season the choir was busy preparing for its many concerts, the biggest one being the Vespers Service on December 17. Other activities during this time were the all-school assembly and the caroling of the seniors through the halls of area schools.

The choir entered competition among many other schools, and because the director, Mr. Bernard Falor, prepared them well they hoped for a first place and the chance to go on to the district, then state contests.

The Limelighter's assembly and the Easter assembly were other show times of the choir. When springtime rolled around, many choir members participated in the school musical.

Football Performances Highlight Band's Year

The Clay High parade, marching, and concert band was led through its drills by Mr. Charles Neal. Our band began its new year by vying for first place in the Strawberry Festival, June 10, and the Fireman's Convention, June 17. The Oregon Day Parade also highlighted its summer parade schedule.

The last two weeks of August meant long, hard drill and practice for the band members. Sore feet and tired muscles were contagious. All of the hard work was worth it. The football halftime shows were new and refreshing. The twirling of the fire baton by drum major Rick Webb, senior recognition night, the bull fight performance, and the well executed precision routines added to the splendid musical arrangements.

This year a dance band, composed of band members, was formed. This band participated in the Specialties. A few eligible band members also entered the Solo and Ensemble Contest March 2.

The majorettes for the 67-68 season are Head Majorette Carole Gross, Belinda Robb, Jenny Ackerman, and Eileen Engelhart.

At the band banquet, Jim Nelson, voted outstanding band member, receives his award from his predecessor, Luanne Iffland.

National Honor Society Promotes Leadership

A few National Honor members discuss school matters before the group picture is taken.

The National Honor Society is not a socially active club; however, its members are very energetic. This society is comprised of students who have achieved high scholastic standards and contributed to the leadership and character of Clay High School. Fifteen per cent of each graduating class is eligible for membership—ten per cent selected in their junior year, and the remaining five per cent chosen during their senior year. In order to maintain his membership in the society, a student must retain a 3.0 academic average. The National Honor Society commands the respect of other students and represents pride to its members, since they have worked hard to reach this goal.

Speech Club Generates

Excitement And Imagination

Speech is the most powerful link between people. The spoken word transcends ideas, stirs intellect, rustles a lethargic mind, and excites the imagination. The Clay High speech club was comprised of dedicated students genuinely interested in competitive speech activities.

This year the club engaged in various speech tournaments, matching talents with such schools as Port Clinton, Bowling Green, DeVilbiss, Anthony Wayne, Sylvania, Start, St. John's, Whitmer, Perrysburg, and Fremont. Those students who competed this year include Nancy Batch, Debra Coken, Kay Fletcher, Dan Hagedorn, Rich Harting, Don Kopka, James Lamoreaux, Gail Odneal and Bruce Wallace.

The Limelighters were busy with four productions this year. The first was the annual Limelighters' assembly. Then followed A Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court and the controversial 1984. In the spring the club cooperated with the music department to produce a popular musical.

The officers of the Limelighters were James Nelson, president; Rich Harting, vice-president; Pam Tholl, secretary; Robin Hofbauer, treasurer; and Kevin Kwiatkowski, chaplain.

Limelighters Display Dramatic Talents

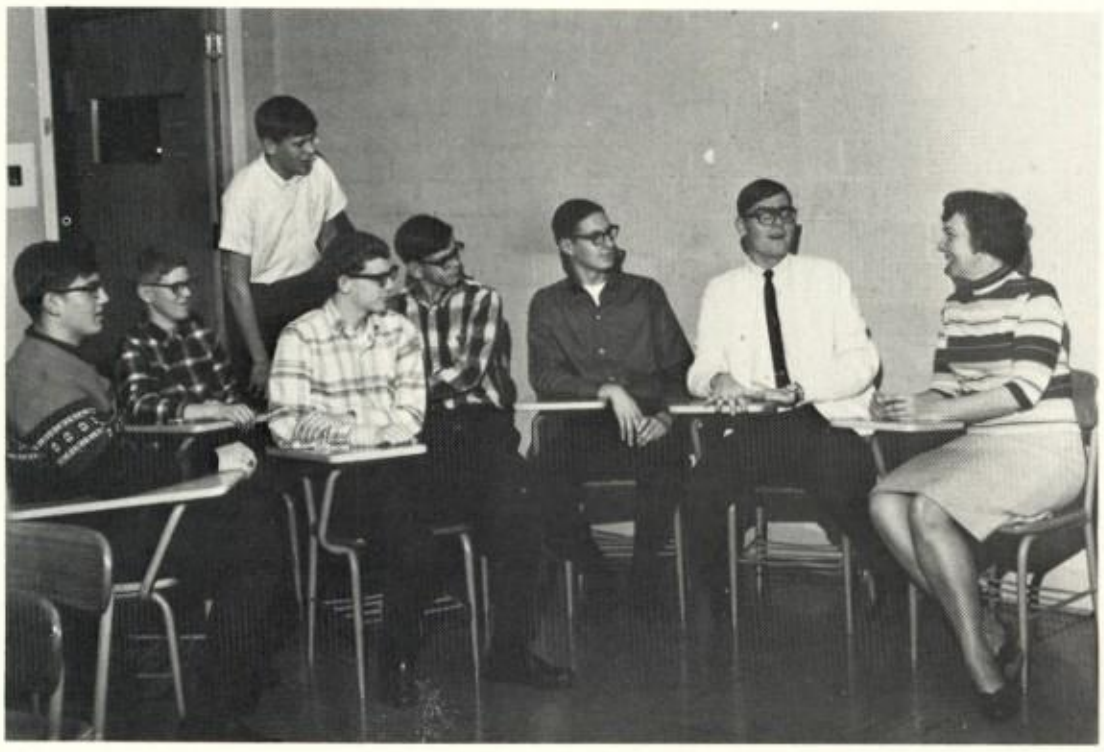
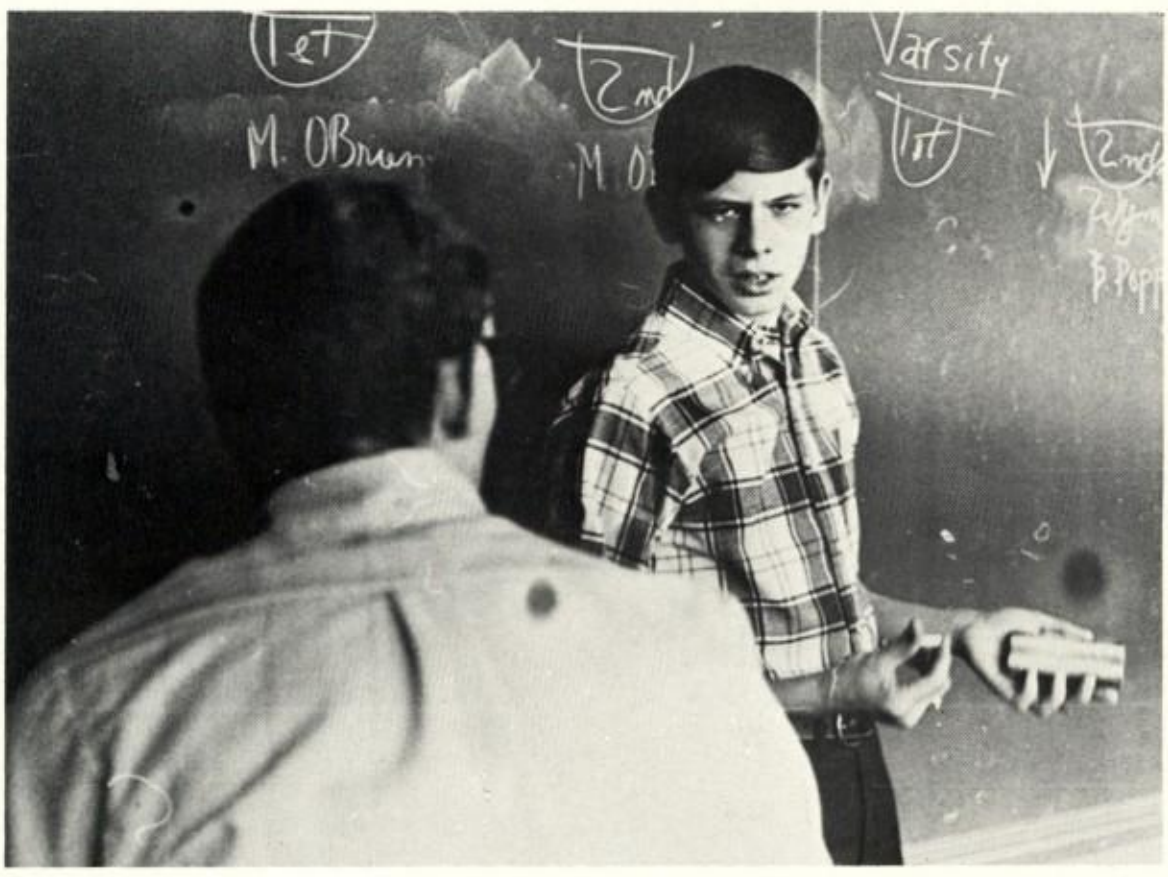
Math Club Competes In Area Contests

The Math Club was established to bring a greater appreciation to the field of mathematics than does the daily routine of regular classroom work. At the bi-monthly meetings the members discussed the modern math now being taught, and they held contests to solve problems on a competitive basis for points. Those who received the highest number of points were recognized and awarded prizes. Another activity involved selling concessions at the Clay-Waite basketball game. In the spring of the year, the attention of the club was focused on the competitive exams held between area and district schools.



Math Club members are: Jim Saelzer, Bruce Poppe, Jeff Poppe, Mike O'Brien, William Wymer, Rod Bauer, Alan Murphy, and Mrs. Ravenscroft.



Jeff Poppe is puzzled by a math problem.

Mike O'Brien rushes through a problem to finish first.

Bio-Phy-Chem Discovers Origin of Club

Bio-Phy-Chem, honorary science club began the year with an imaginative initiation party at Pearson Park's Macomber Lodge. The main event of this social gathering was the dramatic presentation of a story created by several of the older members about the origin of Bio-Phy-Chem.

New members were required to hunt for a sacred log and other items designated by the returning members.

The club had a booth at Fun Nite and visited a mortuary on a field trip. This year the club had a new adviser, Mr. Kermit Hoesman.

Bio-Phy-Chem officers are Dick Szakovits, treasurer; Kirk Poenicke, vice-president; Jane Klickman, secretary; and Doug Perras, president.

Members eagerly eat the refreshments served after the induction ceremony.

New and old Zetes chat together after the meeting.

Debbie Dewey, Pam Morris, and Claire Thomas help themselves to the punch after the induction.

Zetes Garter Sales Boost Spirit

This year the Zetalethian Literary Society strove to raise the standards of the club. The constitution was amended to fit the present needs and wants of the members.

The purpose of this club is to promote the literary interests of the members. The secondary purpose is to teach good fellowship, consideration of others, the value of cooperation, and commendable school spirit.

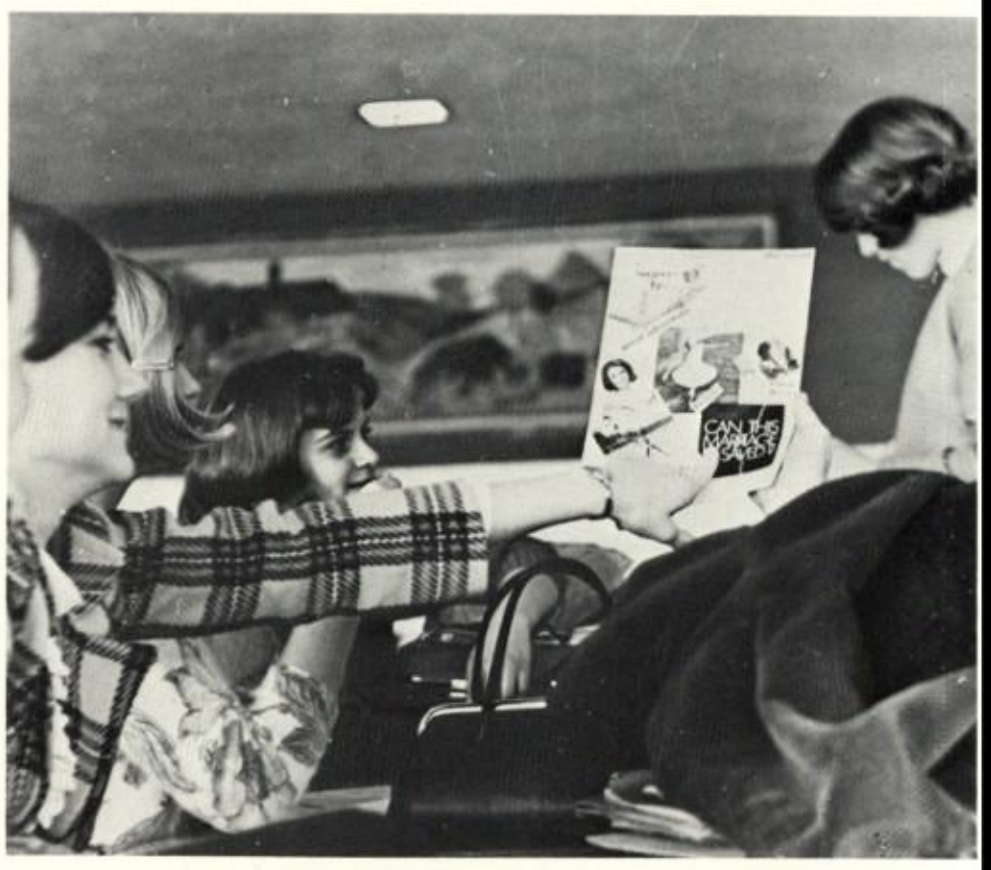
Thursday, November 16, 1967, the induction of new members was held in the library. After the candle-lighting services, Mr. Haynes, English teacher, spoke on "Facets of Happiness." Refreshments were served afterwards.

In addition to the rejuvenation of the constitution, and induction of fifteen new members, Miss Phyllis Jones, Dean of Girls, became the advisor.

To increase the treasury plastic covers to protect the yearbook were sold.

New members of the Zetes were inducted into the club earlier this year. They are Front Row—Kay Fletcher, Pam Morris, Barb Stevens, Gloria Patterson, Carol Hess. Row 2—Deb Minick, Trudy McLaughlin, Debbie Dewey, Linda Valencic, Rita A. Wells, Jane Klickman. Row 3—Janice Bell, Sue Sefarian, Connie Bigley, Eunice Lucke, and Miss Jones.

The sophomore Y-Teens officers are Jeannette Paulsen, Kyle Davis, Carol Komon, and Diane Meyer.



Y-Teen members have interesting discussions to learn more about the "adult world."

Y-Teens Promote "Spirit's The Word"

"Promote Spirit" has been the password at this year's Y-Teens meetings. In affiliation with the Y.W.C.A. the club worked to expand interest in school activities by selling spirit badges. At the downtown Y Winter Carousel, the girls exhibited a booth for the enjoyment of the participants.

The candlelight induction of the new members, followed by a Christmas tea highlighted their fall agenda. Corsages were presented to the new members and refreshments were enjoyed by all.

Junior-Senior Y-Teens officers and advisors, contemplate the club's program for the next meeting.

Chess Club Matches Wits with Area Schools

During the year, the Chess Club met every Monday after school in room 202. Under the direction of Mr. Joseph Willmarth, the club held several matches among its members and among several area schools. Out of five matches, the club members won one, lost two, and tied two. They were able to defeat Anthony Wayne, they lost to Waite, and tied Rossford and Macomber. The Chess Club also sponsored a booth at the annual Fun Night.

Forrest Short displays the concentration which is necessary to the successful chess player.

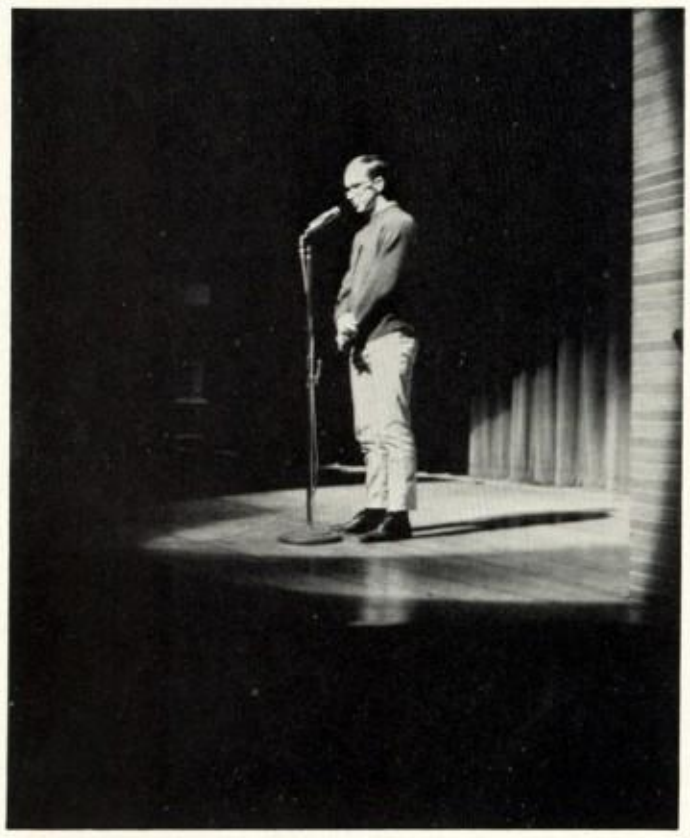
Y.F.C. Becomes Campus Life

Campus Life officers Brian Truman, Sandy Smith and Brian Shoop met with Mr. Vincent Rupp, Rev. Charles Reed and guest speaker Mr. Herb Frederich to discuss a meeting's agenda.

This year Youth For Christ changed its name to Campus Life. In doing so it became a part of a program designed for students on the high school and college levels. Emphasis was placed on the basic essentials of living your faith in Christ and carrying that life to friends, relatives, and strangers every day. The club proved to be a thing of enjoyment for all kids, offering lots of intramural, state, and national activities. All of this combined to make this a club with a large-scope and a closely knit membership. Among the activities sponsored by the club this year were a Bug Race and a Watchamajig.



Brian Truman leads the student body in prayer before the start of an assembly, a continuing function of the Campus Life Club.

Spanish Club Makes Pins To Boost Eagle Spirit

This past year the Spanish club, under the direction of Mr. John Fellhauer, made pins in the shape of swords for basketball games. These paper pin-ons helped to boost Eagle spirit. They had "kill 'em" written on one side and "beat 'm" written on the other in Spanish.

For the festive Christmas holiday they made colorful pinatas and enjoyed breaking them open and being rewarded with cookies, candy, and small presents. Having completed a year filled with many projects and the promotion of the Spanish language, the club had a party and went out to dinner at a Spanish-American restaurant.

Spanish Club officers Phil Cramer, Paula Nelson, Angie Jablonski and Gail Phillips get the records straight for the next meeting.

French Club Gains Knowledge Through Pen Pals

French Club officers Mike O'Brien, Tate Klag, and Sue Hoffman discuss plans for the next meeting.

The French Club operated this year under a new adviser, Mrs. Gertrude Skinta. Club members were involved in a variety of interesting activities, such as attending a French play production, Tu Caret, at Toledo University. The club bolstered its treasury by conducting a candy sale.

Among the most interesting of the club's activities, however, was the exchange of letters with French pen pals. Members discovered that these letters gave them a greater understanding of the customs and interests of the French teenagers.

FTA Observes Teaching Tactics

FTA officers discuss plans for their next meeting. They are Carole Gross, president; Mary Lou Pesany, secretary; Eunice Luecke, historian; Debbie Mesteller, historian; and Jim Saelzler, vice-president. Absent from the picture is Belinda Robb, treasurer.

Establishing a new constitution, organizing a program committee, and carrying out an Easter project were on the agenda of the Future Teachers of America club this year. Along with the addition of new members, the club also welcomed Mr. James Harmon, their new adviser.

Members attended Metropolitan Future Teachers of America meetings at various area high schools. They not only received ideas for their club's program, but they met other FTA'ers and shared their experiences. For each member attending an MFTA meeting the Clay High FTA received a point. These points accumulated toward a paid trip to the FTA convention in Columbus, Ohio, this summer.

To further their knowledge of teaching, the FTA observed techniques and classroom life at Clay Elementary. Often members were allowed to present a lesson to the class. This practical experience will prove to be a definite aid to their future profession.

Mary Lou Pesany spent her study halls observing and studying in the Kindergarten.

FDA Gives Educational Talks

The Future Dental Assistants was open to those senior girls who were interested in becoming a dental assistant, and junior girls who planned on taking the dental course during their senior year.

This past year the D.A. class and F.D.A. worked together and went on an observation to a dentist's office each month. In the spring, the girls went out for training in area dentists' offices.

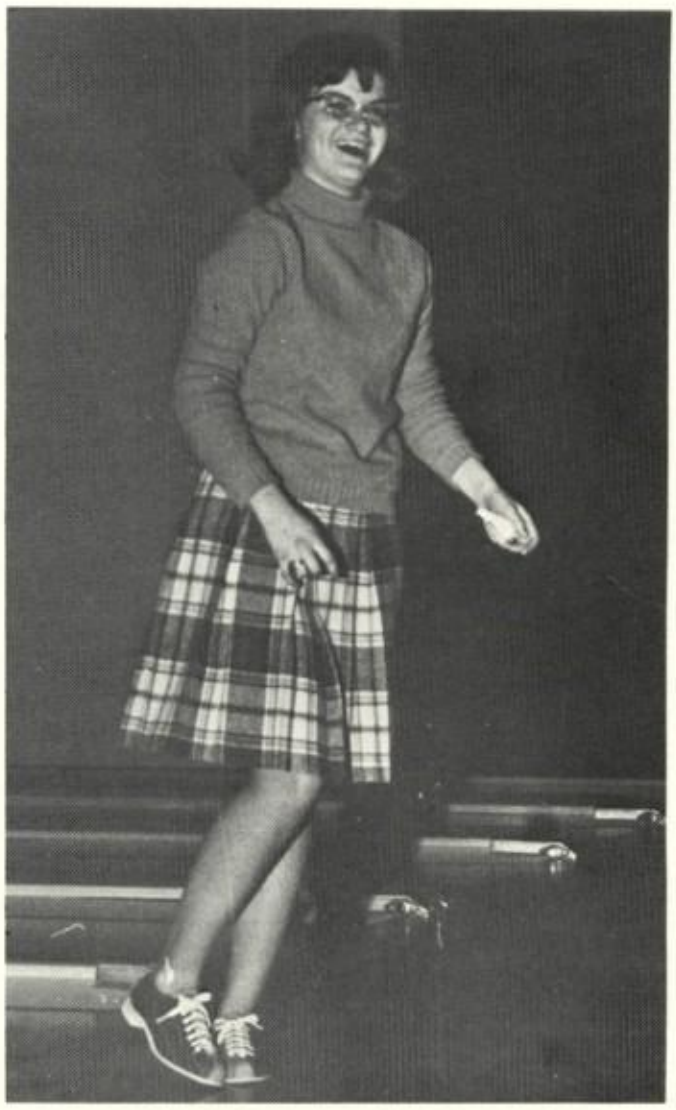
Charity was also a concern of F.D.A. this year, for the girls participated in the annual Varsity "C" charity drive and in Fun Nite.

Each girl was required to give a talk to elementary children at area schools. This was a part of the patient education program.

Diane Morse and Sue Cammarn fill the display case with FDA ideas.

FDA'er Sheila Hansen gets a thorough examination from other members of the class.

GAA Features Intra-school Bowling



Sue Dubbs discovers an occasional gutter ball is part of the fun of the game.

G.A.A. girls devoted their energy to their bowling teams. They bowled the first and third Mondays and the second and fourth Wednesdays of each month. Although the bowling averages weren't extremely laudable, everyone thoroughly enjoyed herself, and that was the most important thing.

Each member worked towards earning points during the year. The seniors received medals and the juniors were given pins. Points were awarded for bowling, committee work, and attendance at the meetings.

A banquet was held at the end of the year. Newly chosen officers were then announced. Highlighting the evening was the announcement of the outstanding G.A.A. member.

Senior G.A.A. members are First Row—Gloria Foster, Sandy Hendrickson, Virginia Shaffer, Rene Allred, Lynn Bahnsen, Kathy Eggert, Tate Klag, Vicki Heilman, Sally Dybala, Sheila Hansen, Janice Jacquillard, Gloria Patterson. Second Row—Marsha Gruenwald, Darlene Greenwood, Joyce Cornwell, Irene Gall, Pat Blackledge, Priscilla D'Anniballe, Alice Komon, Marlene Bachmeyer, Shari Kelly, Debbie Rought, Debbie Dippman. Third Row—Jane Merren, Nancy Batch, Sandy Miller, Becky Papenfus, Marsha Peppers, Ruth Wolff, Vicki Ovall, Carole Gross, Kathy Horst, Beulah Gillette, Pam Kwiatowski, Mary Duvall. Fourth Row—Sue Hoffman, Judy Navarre, Sue Cammarn, Janet Pastor, Cindy Douge, Karen Cornwall, Marie Scherack, Mary Limpf, Nancy Lallendorf, Jacque Miles, Lynne Pierce, Linda Lofquist, Jean Parker.

Sandy Mikesall finds it impossible to believe her perfect strike ball ends as a big split.

FHA Branches Out To Food Service

Clay has started a new program which is part of the curriculum in only two other Toledo-Oregon area schools. This is the Food Service class open only to seniors. It has been designed for those who don't like the regular classroom activity but who want to further their education while working at the same time.

Food Service teaches the student the preparation and catering of food, how to assist a head cook, and the proper methods of serving in a cafeteria. Working with local business establishments, the teachers set up a job schedule for each student; then during the second semester the student spent the afternoons working on the job outside the school.

After completing this course as a basic groundwork boys may go on to chef's school in New Haven, Connecticut. The Food Service program has proved profitable, especially to those who are not interested in attending college but who still wish to have a good job after graduation.

FBLA Concludes

Busy Social Season

The FBLA has grown bigger and more active. The club has expanded to engage in more social activities, to increase the club treasury, and to contribute more to charity.

In September the induction for new members was held. Mr. Peterson who was the speaker, presented a program describing the procedures of the meetings. The club held a canned food drive in November for the needy families of Oregon, and had a booth at Fun Nite, donating all profits to charity. Also in April members participated in the ALSAK drive.

Some of the members attended a convention in November at Lake High School. There they held contests and had a business meeting with other area FBLA'ers. Each month the club sponsored a party such as the wiener roast at Pearson Park, a Christmas party at Macomber Lodge, and an ice skating party.

To raise money for the club members sold concessions at basketball games, had a candy sale and in the end of the year sponsored a car wash.

Frank Fioritto, the only boy in FBLA, pecks at the adding machine.

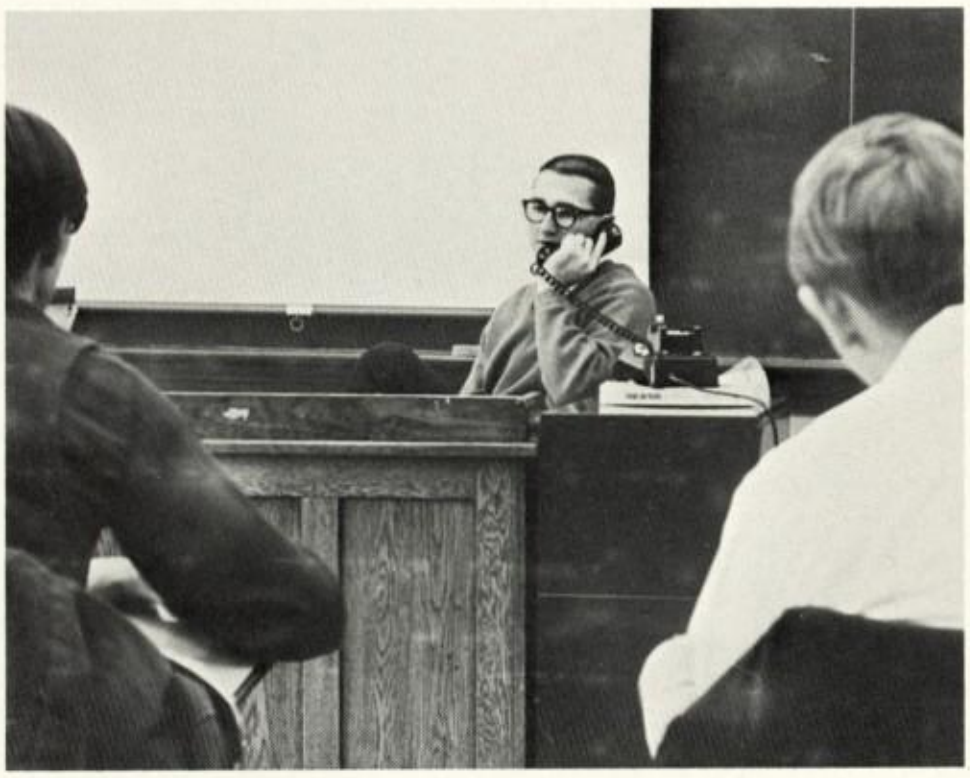
Student Mechanics Venture into Automotive Mysteries

No monkey business is allowed in the Auto Mechanics club. Tinkering with car motors for fun led these boys to their future occupations. Correcting the maladies of a car that will be running on today's super highways is something to be taken seriously. These boys used their stored and acquired knowledge in carrying out the projects of the club.

Good work was their motto, since many of the cars they worked on were their own. Grease and grit presented the only drawbacks, but soap, water, and hard work washed away all the problems.

Student mechanic crawls under auto to correct a defective part.

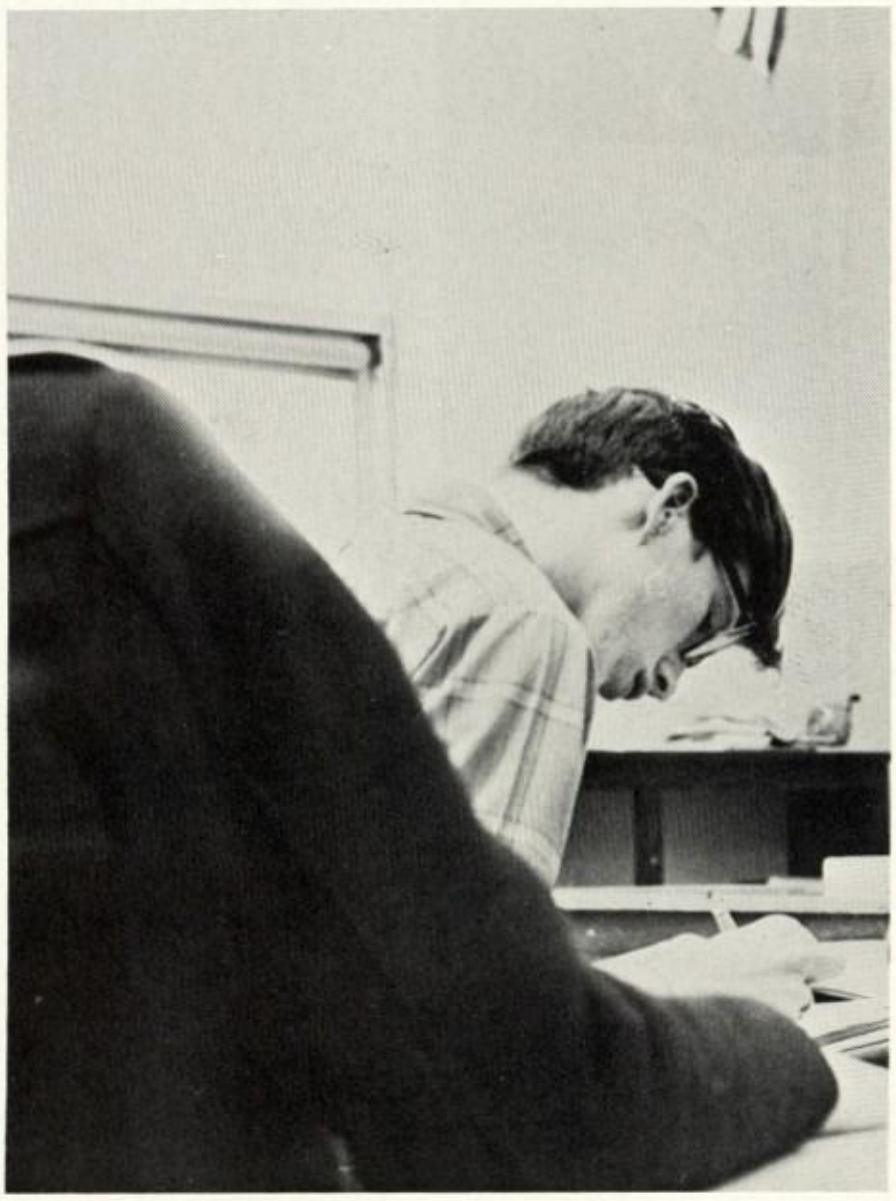


Mr. Charles Felhaber calls area business establishments for progress reports on O.W.E.'ers.

OWE Joins Clay's Roster

A new state sponsored organization introduced to Clay's club roster this year was O.W.E.—Occupational Work Experience. This course is offered to senior boys who have acquired twelve credits by their senior year, leaving five credits left to make. Three are earned from O.W.E.

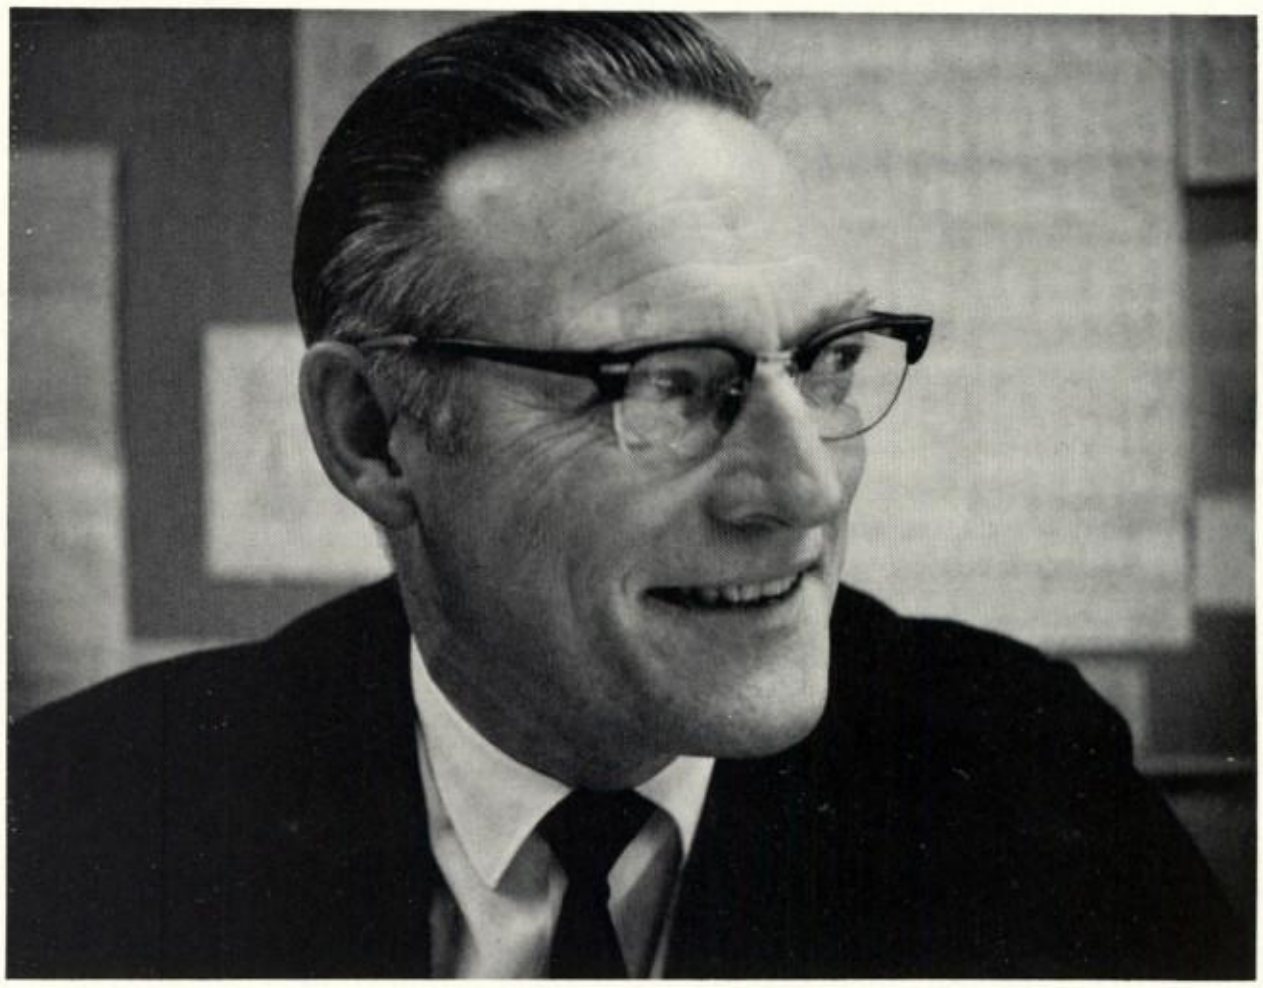
Students spend three periods a day in class discussing work problems, and the afternoon on the job. The course is designed to give the students work experience. The members of O.W.E., under the advice of Mr. Felhaber, were employed at local business establishments.



Kevin Kwiatowski studies better on the job work habits.

O.W.E. members listen carefully to Mr. Felhaber's helpful hints.

ACADEMICS



Administration Receives New Top Man

The Oregon schools system welcomed a new superintendent, Mr. Victor Wood, at the beginning of this summer. Mr. Wood attended Auston College, Texas, and received his Bachelor and Master's Degree there, majoring in history and minoring in psychology.

Upon returning to Ohio, Mr. Wood enrolled in a project to train individuals for the administration of schools, and later acted as the principal of elementary and high schools. He is now in his thirteenth year as a superintendent of schools.

Under his supervision, Clay's administrative staff directs and counsels student activities, and maintains Clay's standards as an outstanding high school.

Mr. Victor Wood, a new face to Oregonians, is the Oregon schools new superintendent.

Board members are as follows Seated—Mr. Edward Berger, Mr. Paul Revenaugh, Mrs. Anna Macpherson, board clerk; President Rolland Turnow. Standing—Mr. Robert Zieroff, Mr. Wayne Bricker.

Mr. James O'Brien, principal of Clay Senior High School, demonstrates his "open door" policy.

Mr. Bert Fleitz, assistant principal, approves an announcement.

Mr. Harold Potter, dean of boys, hands the morning business mail to Mrs. Nancy Bahnsen, treasurer.

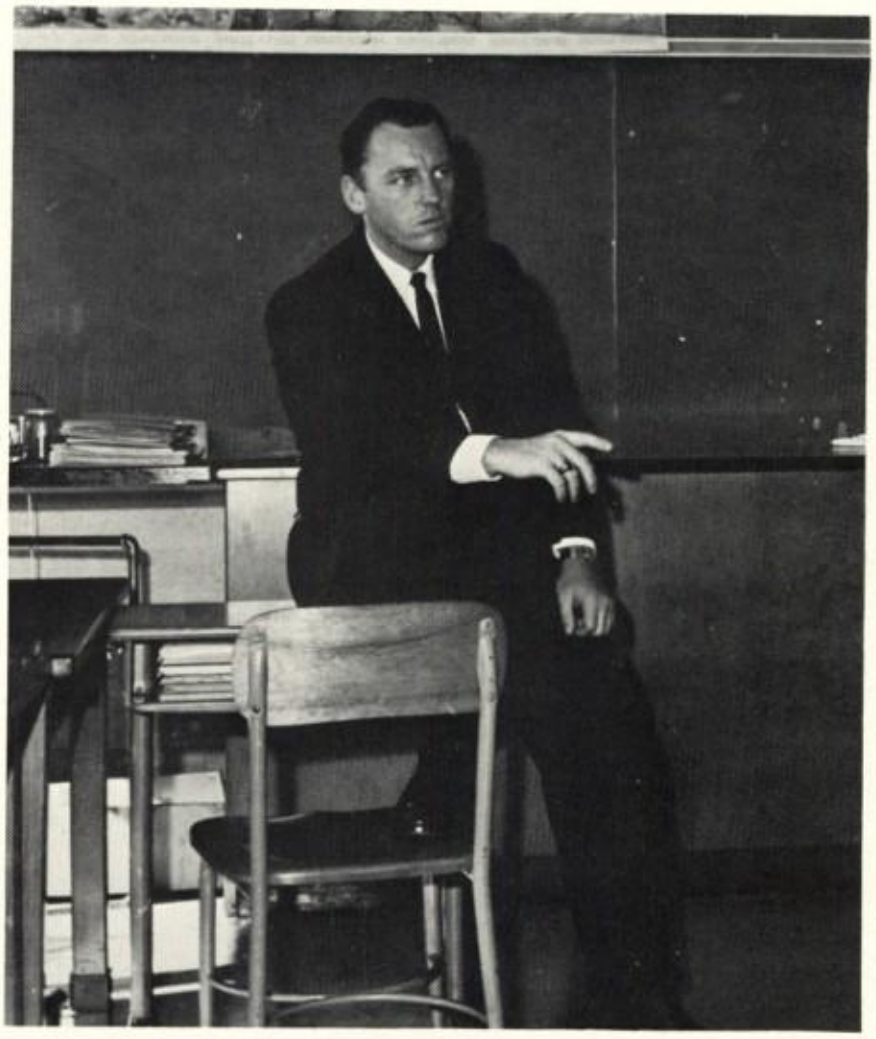
Mr. Euphrat, Miss Jones, and Mr. Shaink, guidance counselors, discuss plans for scheduling at the junior highs.

Mrs. Sarahetta Dunson and Mrs. Dorothy Sanders, secretaries, are faced with the difficult task of recording semester grades.

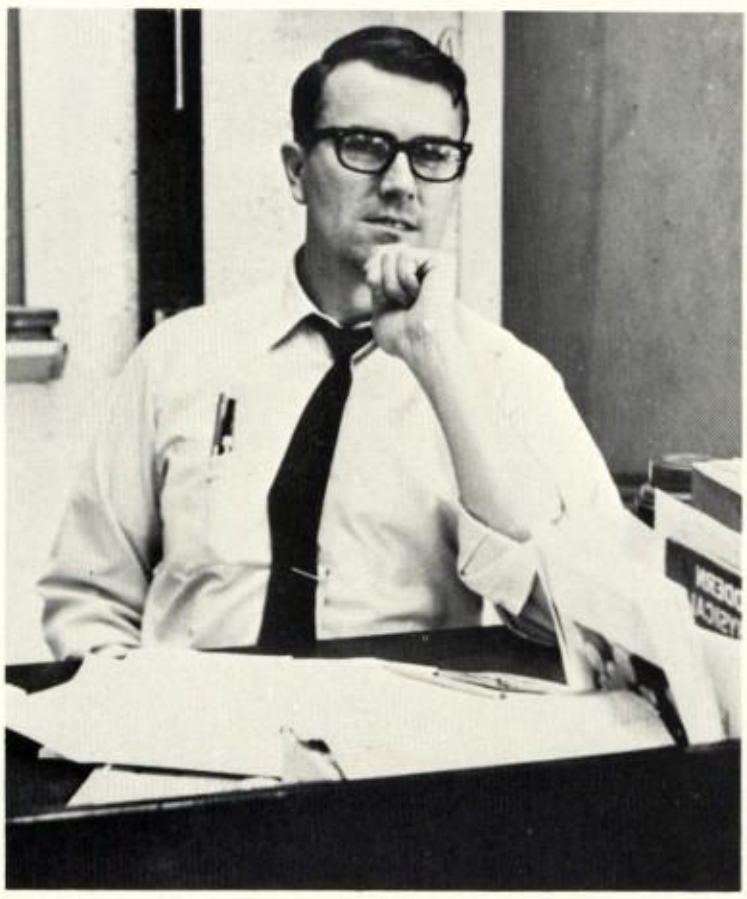
Teachers Contribute Time And Interest To Student Projects

The many wonders of science and mathematics fascinate the students of Clay High School. From the microscopic amoeba to the complicated calculus problems, scientific reasoning was taught by the faculty members to their receptive students. Curiosity was aroused by the intricate way in which our number system was developed, and excitement erupted when students finally discovered what made a chemical explode or a falling object accelerate.

Several of the teachers spent their free time serving as advisors of Bio-Phy-Chem, Math Club, or Chess Club. At the same time they helped students develop and prepare projects which were presented at the 1967-68 Science and Math Fair.



Mr. Richard Kandik, in his second year of teaching biology at Clay, attempts to transfer his love of nature to his students.

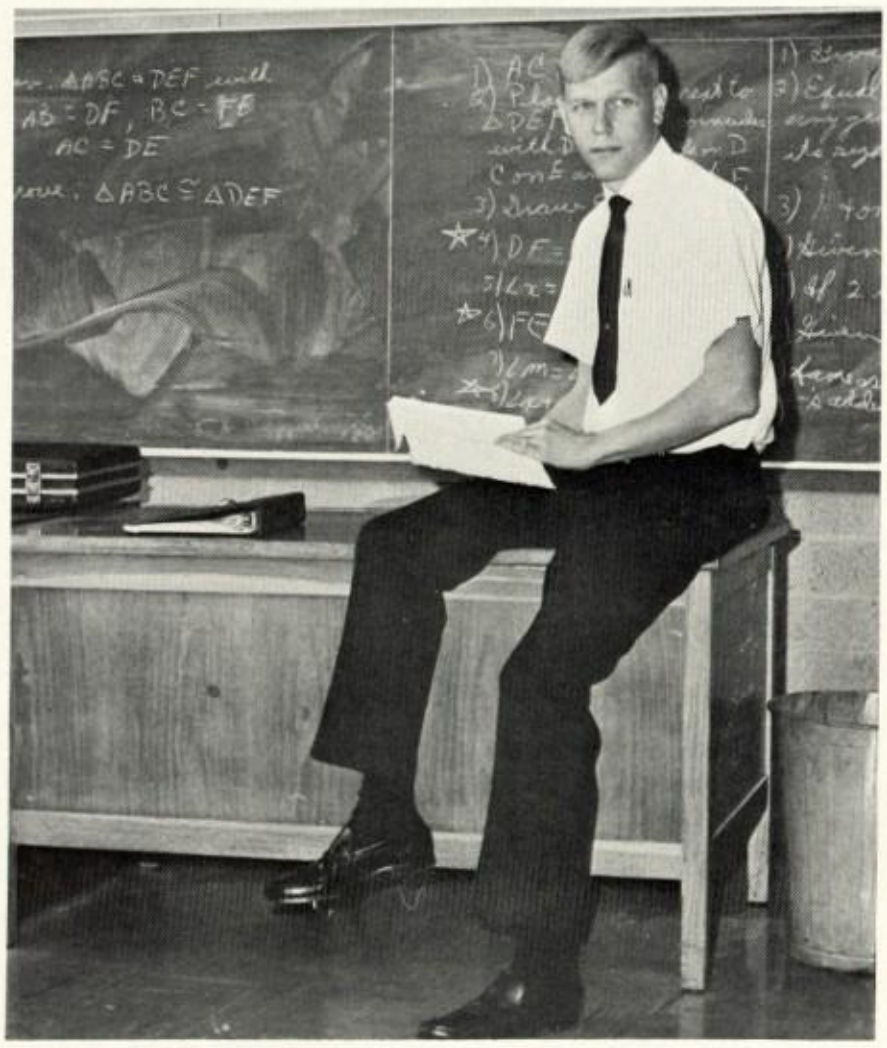


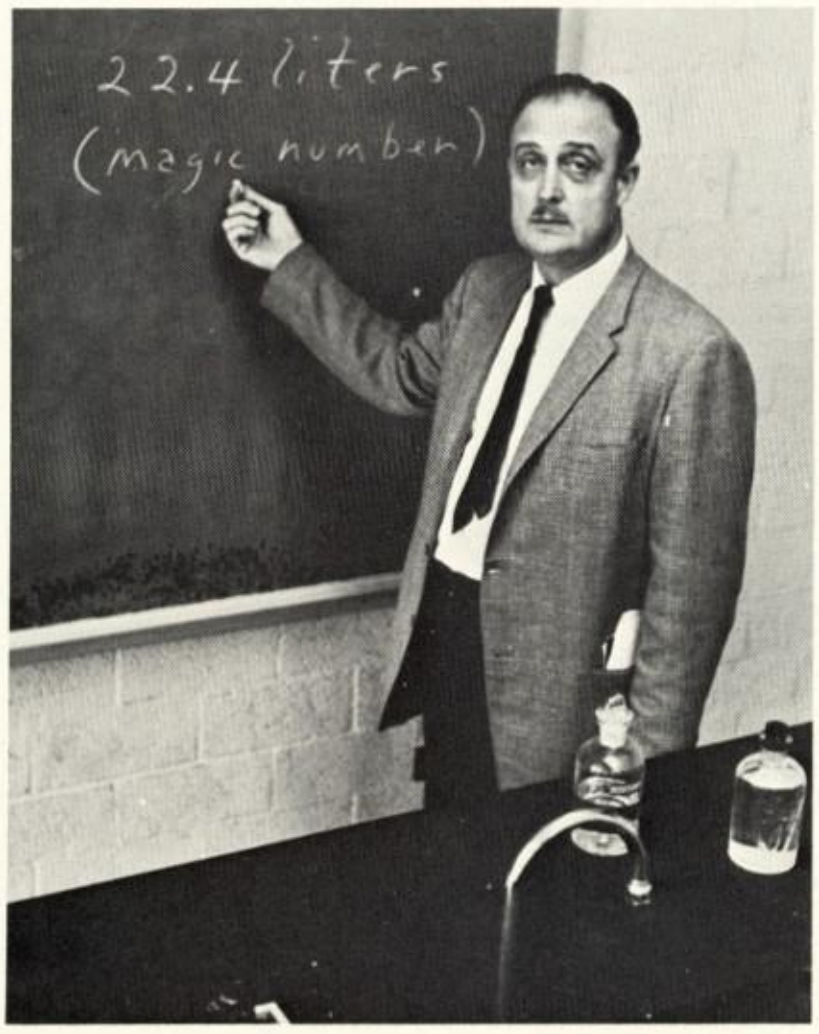
Early in his first year at Clay, Mr. James Harmon, physics and chemistry, pensively reviews the problems of the day.

Familiar faces in the Mathematics Department, Mrs. Charlotte Cramer and Mrs. Margaret Ravenscroft exchange thoughts about the new math.

A joke at the end of the day brings a smile to the faces of biology teachers Mr. Kermit Hoesman and Mr. Joseph Willmarth.

Personable Mr. Richard Tangeman, one of the many new faces this year, adds extra interest to his Plane Geometry classes.





A respected and well-liked "martian" of Clay, Mr. Robert Bumbaugh, chemistry, discusses the key number of the gas laws.

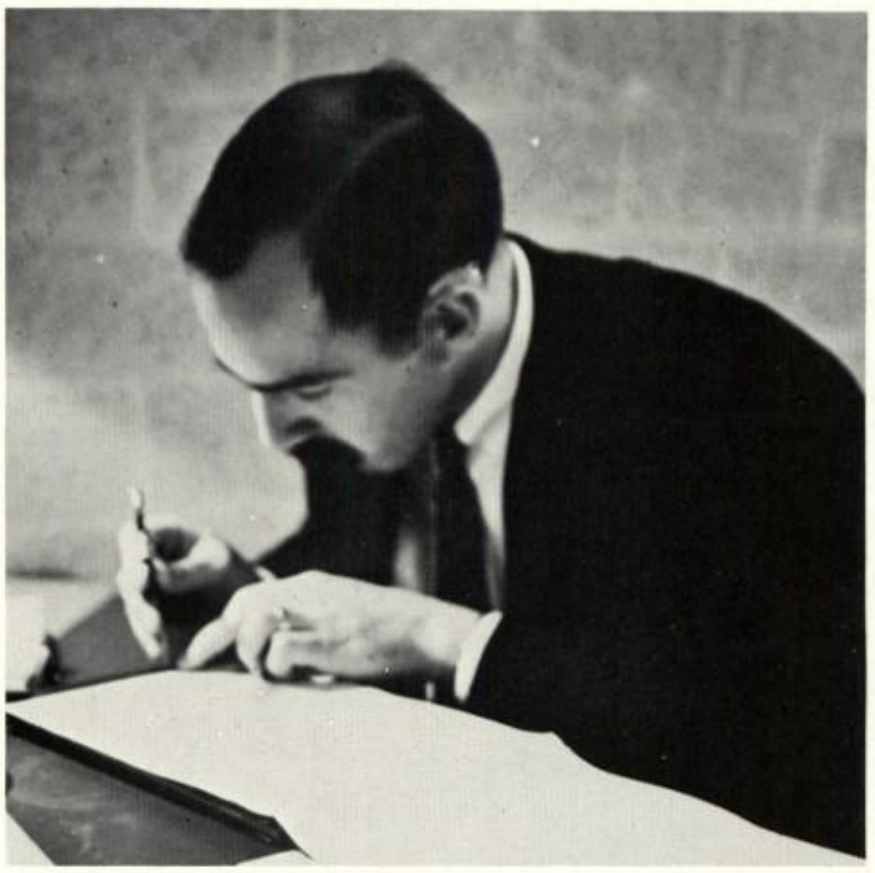
Language Teachers Promote Foreign Customs and Ideas

Learning could not exist without simple communication and the acknowledgment of what others have learned and written for us to read. Speaking, in any language, expresses ideas. Thus one must develop a talent to tell his ideas to others. Clay gave every student the opportunity to learn this talent by such courses as French, Latin, Spanish, and speech and offered to its students a library well-equipped for their needs.

Foreign languages were taught by using many devices, such as records, tape recorders, and the language lab. These combined to make speaking, reading, and understanding a foreign language a little easier and a little more fun.

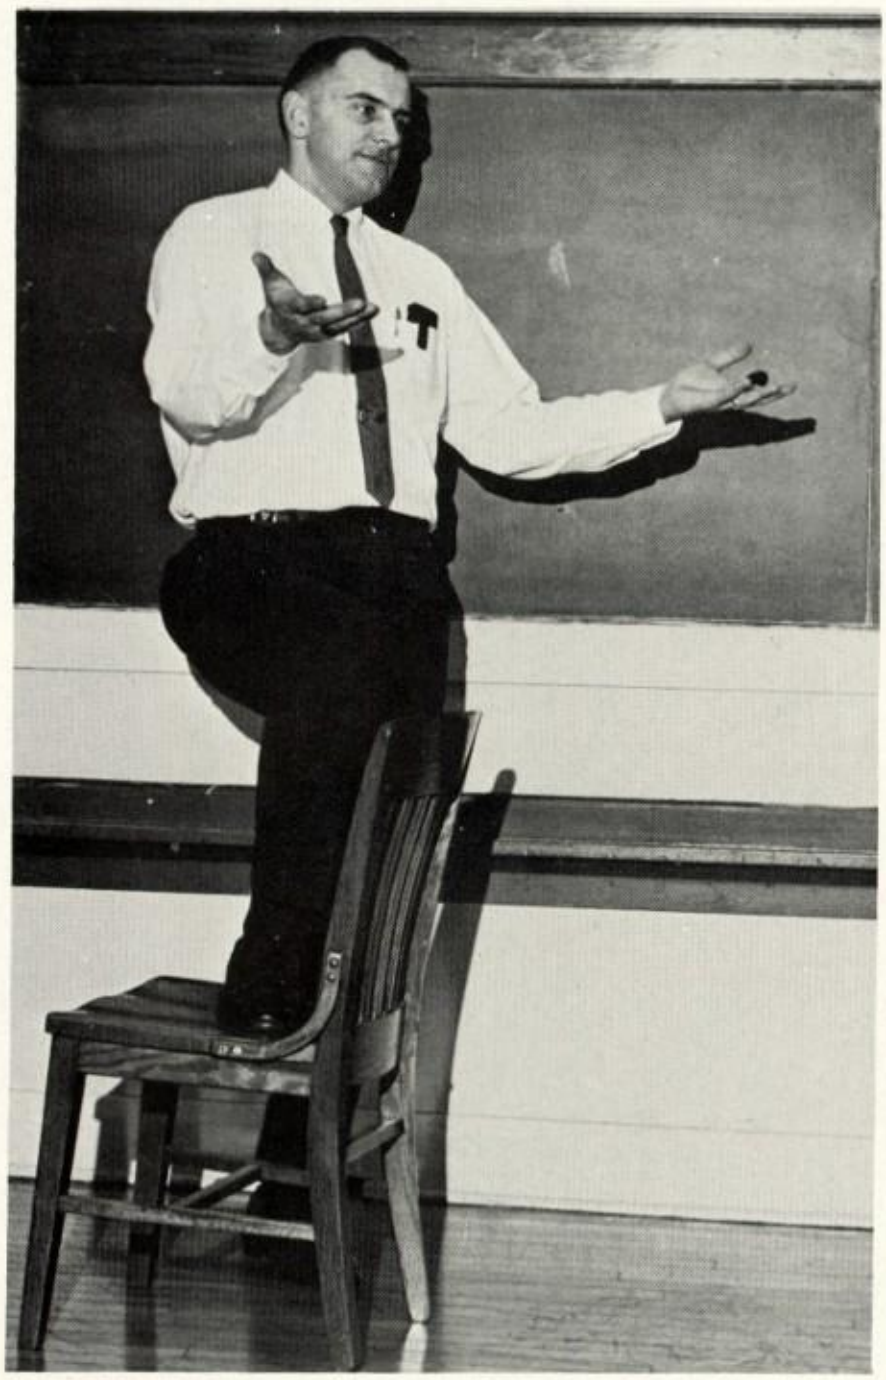
Mrs. Gertrude Skinta, formerly an English instructor, contemplates the problems of teaching French.

Student teacher William Bowling discovers what all teachers know—teaching isn't confined to the classroom.



Mr. John Fellhauer, Spanish, prepares his classes' lessons during his free period.

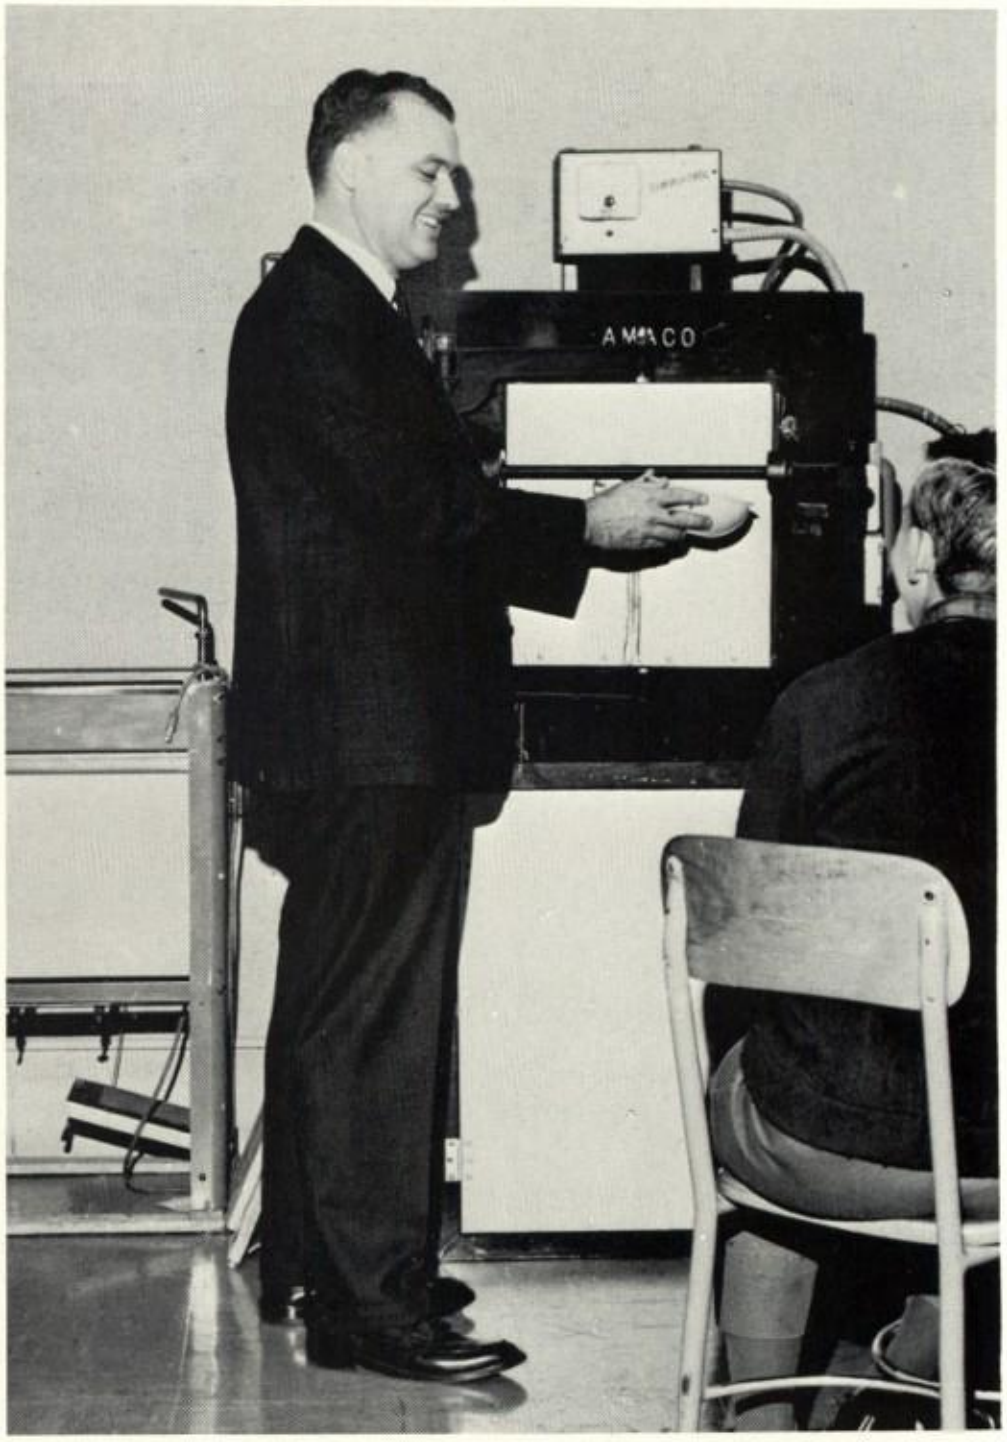
Mr. Clair Reason, a new face in the speech and English departments, demonstrates the use of facial expressions and gestures.



Miss Jean Garey, English and Latin, takes time in her busy schedule to water her many plants.

Mr. Bernard Falor, vocal music, demonstrates the proper mouth shapes for singing to Judy Zimmerman.

Mr. Charles Neal, in his first year as Clay band director, introduces new methods to band members.



Mr. George Hauter, art instructor, explains the basic elements of glazing, using a bowl as an example.

Mrs. Lydia Beehler, a new face in the Home Economics department, stops a moment to consider her full schedule.

Fine Arts Courses Allow Students To Study in Diverse Fields

Fine Arts courses were designed to give students a practical knowledge of studies in which they were particularly interested. These included the various phases of the arts-music, homemaking, and art. Each course was divided into many specific areas. Home economics was split into such components as cooking, sewing and baby-care. The curriculum applied not only to the girls, but also to the boys in the Chef's class, who also received the Red Cross Baby Care Course. The music department provided enjoyment for everyone, whether he liked singing, playing an instrument, or learning to appreciate good music. The art department offered a chance for artistically talented students to excel in painting, drawing, and crafts.

From the new La Boutique cafeteria in the annex, Mrs. Erleen Johnson returns to the Home Ecoonmics rooms to discuss exams with Mrs. Margaret Wiles.

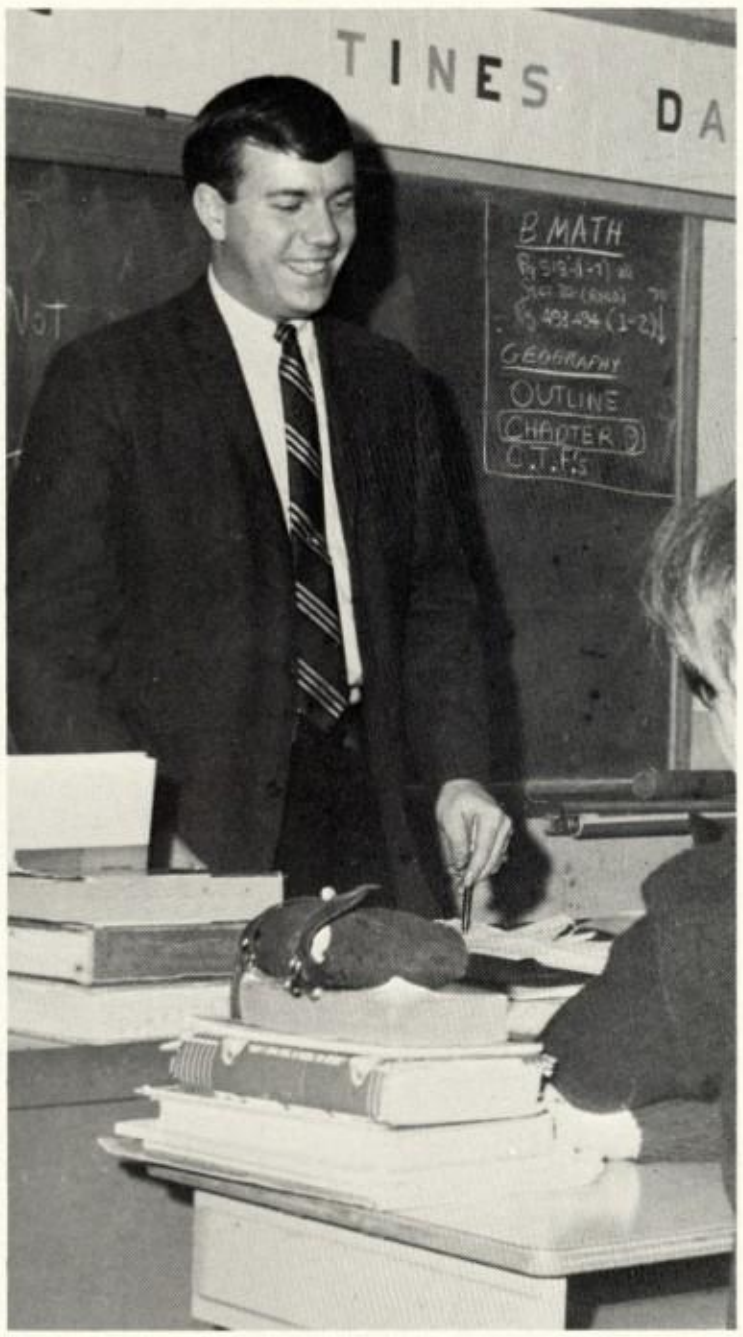
Faculty Offers

Training in Trades

Mrs. Opal Stryczak, dental assistants, describes the progression of tooth decay.

Mr. William Coontz, business math and typing, and Mrs. Elizabeth Needles, shorthand and typing, discuss the merits of a copy machine.

Mr. Tennyson Huyck, bookkeeping and business law, explains the problems of a budget book.



Mr. Charles Peterson, business math and geography, smiles during a "bull session" on business careers.

Mrs. Edith Hebner and Mrs. Helen Konoff, librarians, examine one of a new shipment of books.

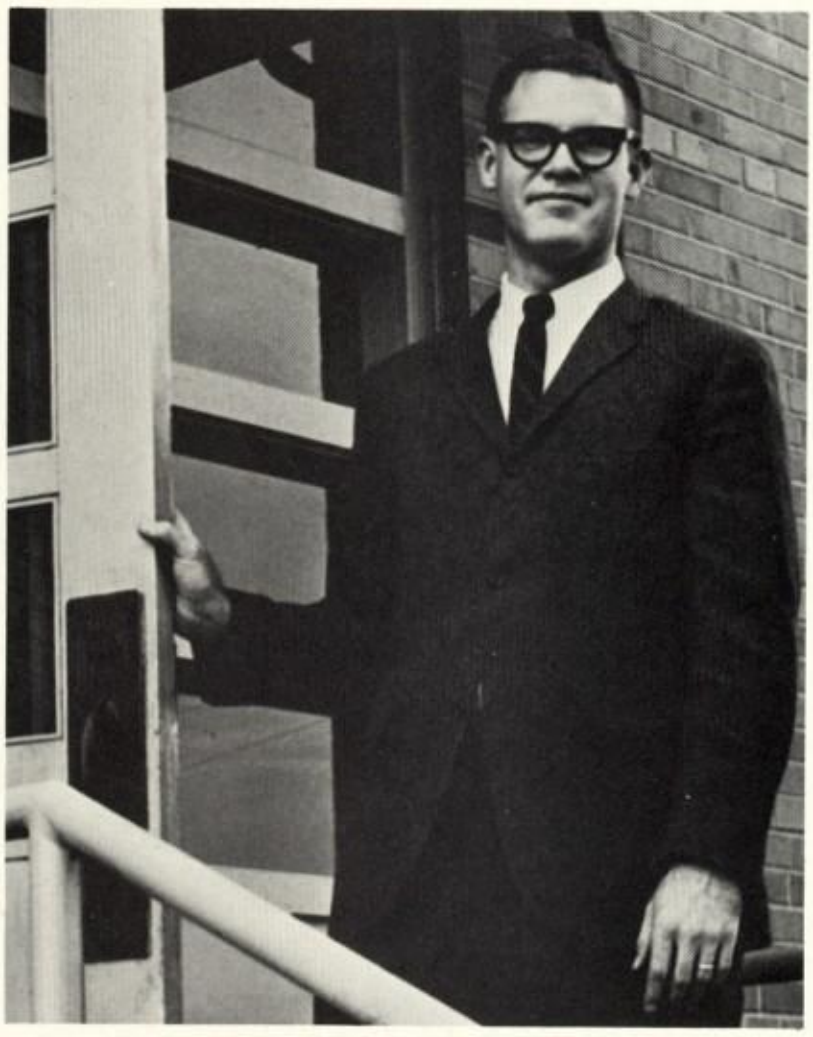
Mr. William Hughes and Mr. Owen Ziebold, Everyday Problems and Hygiene, discuss the stress made on the heart by participating in sports.

Mr. William Crow, driver's training and civics and economics, gives a big smile at the problems brought on by beginning drivers.

Social Aid Courses Develop Wholesome Attitude

Many courses offer students practical knowledge which readily benefits the students if they use the information they have gained. The driver's training course gives all students a background on the basic elements of driving and the experience of using correct driving techniques. Since the Ohio Legislation has required this course for young drivers interested in receiving their licenses, many more students are taking this course. The hygiene and everyday problems courses instruct the students to cooperate with their family and friends, and to learn proper personal hygiene. These courses prove Clay to be a progressive school with a curriculum to fit the varied tastes of its students.

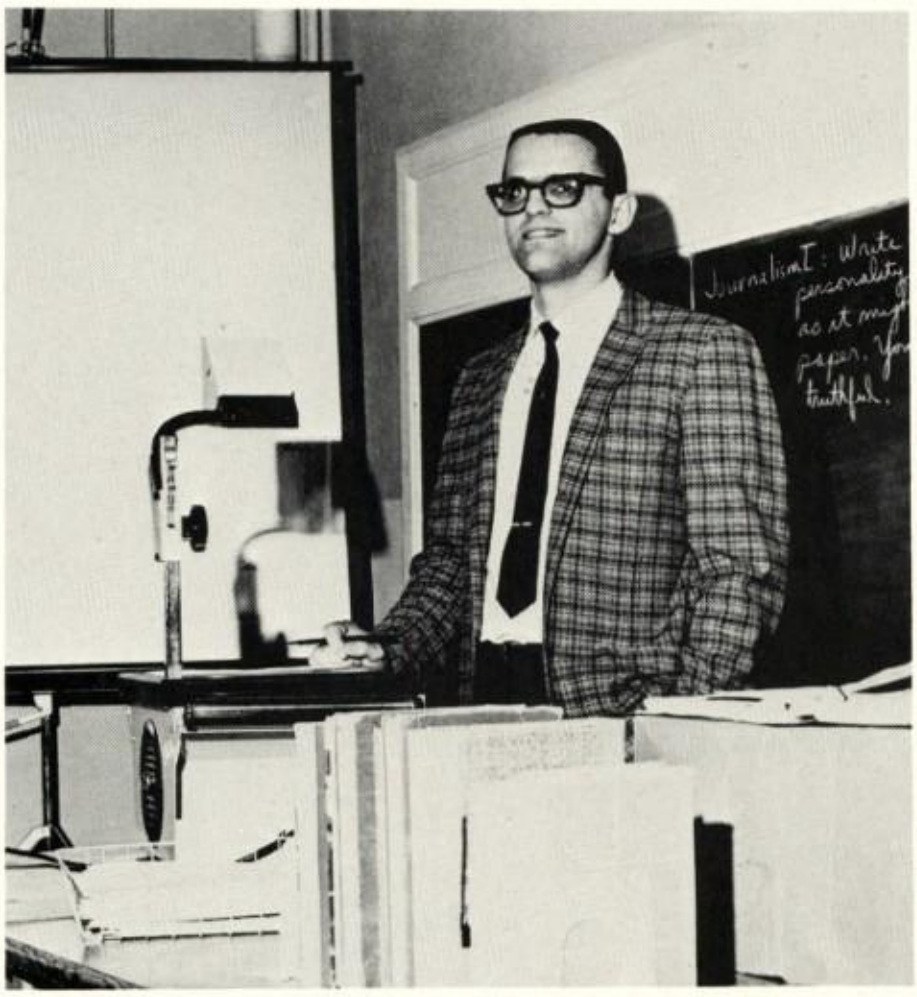
Mr. Russell Scott, driver's training, examines an estimation of traffic costs for one year.



Mr. Michael Casey, special education, waits for another annex teacher before going in the office wing.

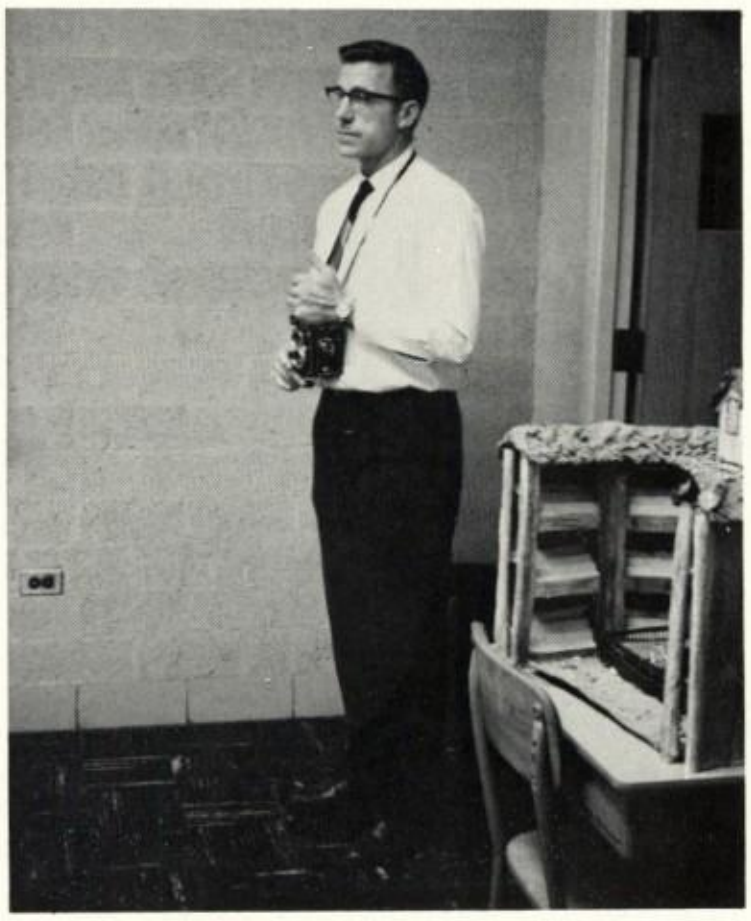
Mrs. Eleanor Swartz, everyday problems, grades a student's report on smoking.

Mrs. Susan Wallace and Mrs. Fern Morse, English intsructors, discuss how to best interpret Walt Whitman's poem "Manahatta."



Mr. Richard Pratt, a new journalism and English instructor, also uses his time to advise the Eagle.

Shakespeare and Milton



Mr. Lawrence Haynes, English teacher and CRYSTAL advisor, tries to get the students to smile so he can take their picture.

Mr. Vincent Rupp, while typing an English study sheet, pauses to answer the questions of Mr. Ronald Buehrer, a new face in the English department.

Perplex and Amuse Pupils

English is the class which is of prime importance for any field chosen by students. The study of English included correct language usage, the development of our language and even the history of many countries, which in some way, affected our language. It gave the students of Clay a poised attitude when speaking with others, and it improved their reading, writing, and speaking skills.

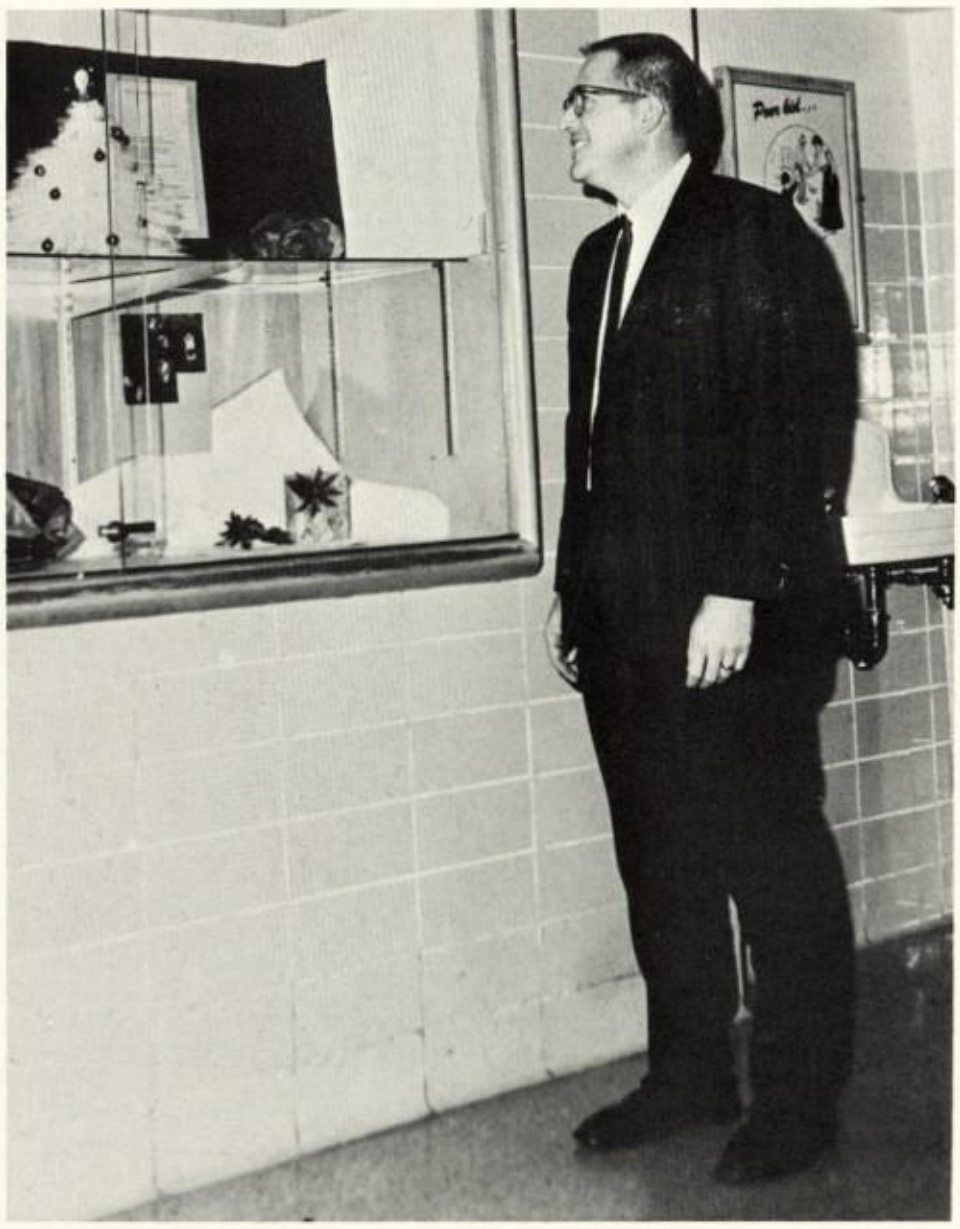
This year Clay had moved ahead of many schools by advancing the curriculum of its STS classes. Sophomores who were eligible for these classes received a combination of junior and sophomore English; the juniors studied senior English; the seniors expanded into new fields by a general review of what they learned previously, by then putting this knowledge to use in a practical way, such as composition, poetry, and by preparing a research paper on their own original topic.

Mr. Paul Gretzinger, English, stops to discuss the new literary magazine with a student in 6th period study hall.

Mrs. Elenor Mook, American History, stops in the office to sign in.

Mr. Jack Hoefflin, Civics and Economics, gives a big sigh and a smile at the end of the day.

Mr. James Barnes, Sociology, and Mr. Andrew Pocse, American History, stop to chat in the library.



Mr. Gary Neiderhauser, World History and American History teacher, stops to admire the Christmas decorations in the front lobby display case.

History Proves To Be Other Than A Snap Course

It was once said that history was made to show the mistakes that man had once made so that he would not repeat them in the future. By studying the social sciences, we've learned more about ourselves and learned to take the responsibilities which accompany being an adult and a citizen of the United States. Through the courses that all students must take, a basic knowledge of our country's history is taught, plus an extensive understanding of the United States governmental operations and economics. For students interested in more ancient studies, world history provided an interesting study of the past. Sociology gave the students an understanding of human relations, such as between the community and the individual. Another facet of the social science department is geography. This course, which was new to Clay last year, allowed the students to learn the "history" of the earth by studying the earth's surface, land and water, mountains, and rivers.

Mr. Rodney Pyle talks to Mr. Roger Schelles, a lawyer, while a student teacher takes over his Civics and Economics classes.

Miss Duane Hocking and Mr. Theodore Federici, physical education, meet frequently to discuss their programs.

Mr. Bruce Berkey and Mr. Robert Kinny, shop instructors, enjoy a chuckle at the expense of the coach.

Staff Members Develop Physical Skills

The active generation at Clay was met with an opportunity to learn to coordinate their hands in muscles. For the boys, industrial arts, and auto mechanics have long been a favorite. These courses let the imaginations bloom into a new car engine, a wooden table of intricate design. The boys could do these only after learning the necessary skills.

The physical education program gave all juniors and seniors a chance to enjoy themselves and to take a break from a day of studying. Various skills had to be learned before one could balance on the balance beam, or before one could do a flip on the trampoline. These were taught in the "gym" classes.

Mr. Fred Kitz, Auto Mechanics, points out the distributor and explains its use to his students.

Mr. Richard Baumgartner, Industrial Arts, checks an assignment with one of his pupils.

Mr. Charles West, drafting instructor, takes a moment to relax and drink coffee in the lounge.

UNDERCLASSMEN

Sophomores Join the Ever-love'n High School Crowd.

On September 7, 1967, 450 sophomores wandered down strange halls and ventured into unknown classrooms. After renewing old friendships and kindling new ones, they settled down to the everyday routine of high school life. They found that although they were the newest class at Clay, they were expected to widen their interests through active membership in clubs. As scholastic and athletic competition became tougher, they learned that the words "Eagle Pride" meant more than winning a game. It was pride in the guys on the teams, in the members of the clubs and in the individuals of the various classes who were trying their best. They found the "Eagle Pride" that would be with them throughout their high school years.

Juniors Approach Challenge of Upper Classmen

Brimming with enthusiasm for the coming year, the Junior Class returned to Clay in September. Although they were not yet as high as the Seniors, they were given more responsibility in school affairs. It was their duty to help in planning the Junior-Senior Prom and in maintaining a high degree of sportsmanship. All class officers assisted in these activities. The Juniors also planned the early morning breakfasts, selected the four rings from which their class ring was chosen, and culled a film for the traditional Junior Class movie.

The guys participated in varsity sports where they helped bring several honors to Clay. The girls were permitted to try out for varsity cheerleaders. In fulfilling these positions, they achieved an elation and a knowledge that came only from doing their best.

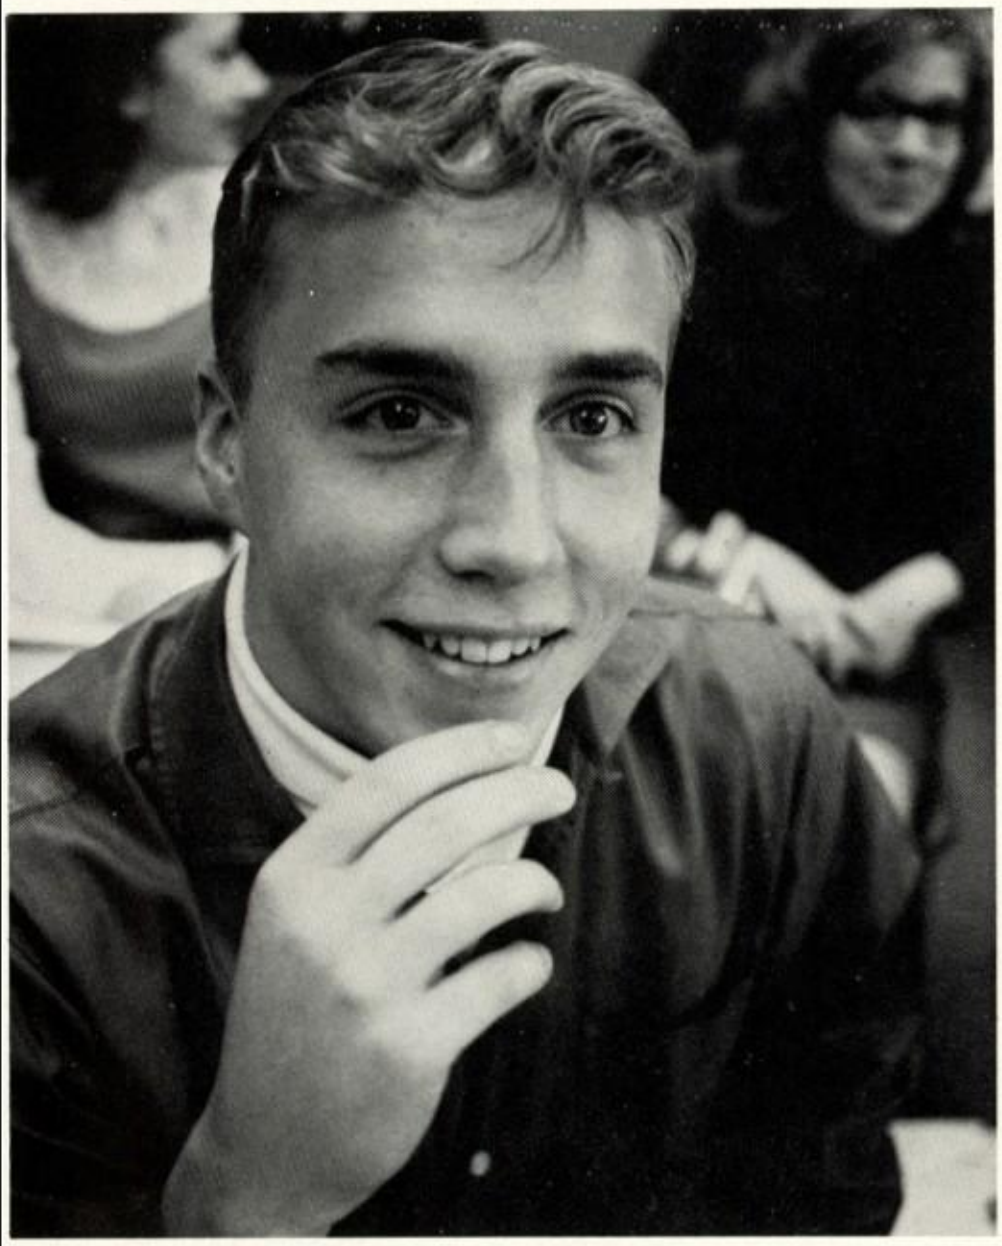
SENIORS



Memories of the past remain in the thoughts of the Seniors

The graduating class of 1968 was composed of typical teenagers who matured in intellectual, physical, and spiritual growth. They created, wondered, roamed, dreamed. They were alternately noisy, serious, and spirited. They were respected, scorned, jeered, and praised.

They produced their share of sports heroes and academic leaders. In their possession was one league championship and two second place titles in football acquired during their three years at Clay. Six were finalists in the National Merit Scholarship test. They produced a Toledo Area Student Council president and queen. For the first time in twelve years an exchange student, Guillermo Fonnegro, was a member of the Student Body for three and one half months. Many received the greatest honors Clay has to bestow—membership in the National Honor Society.

As they faced their last step in high school, they accepted obstacles, enjoyed life, and learned how to live for each day.
